New online storage with BT Cloud

BT Cloud offers all our broadband customers free online backup with up to 50GB free¹.

With BT Cloud you get secure access to your stuff online – whenever and wherever you want, using your computer, tablet or smartphone. All you need is an internet connection.

And remember, you can upload and download for free at any of our 8 million wi-fi hotspots worldwide.²

Keep your files safe

It automatically saves a copy of all the files you've selected for backup. So the latest versions are protected.

Your digital life anywhere

You can see your files wherever you are, as long as you're online.

Sharing is easy

With BT Cloud you can share files by email, and post pictures and videos on Facebook and Twitter.

Free up space on your devices

Upload files to your BT Cloud and you can free up space on your tablet or smartphone.

BT SmartTalk could help you save money

You could make calls from your mobile for less with your BT calling plan, using the new BT SmartTalk app. All you need is an internet connection and you can download it for free.

Here are the top five ways BT SmartTalk helps you save money:

1. Call 0845, 0870 and 0800 numbers at landline rates
2. Call from abroad at the same rate as you do from your home phone
3. Avoid paying extra for calls over your mobile monthly minute allowance, by using your home calling plan
4. Make calls without using up any pay-as-you-go credit
5. Link up to five smartphones to your calling plan

Keeping you informed

Information about Broadband Usage: From 1 July 2013 customers on our capped usage broadband products will be charged from the first month they exceed their allowance. As is the case today, if you exceed your monthly usage allowance, you'll be charged for additional usage in units of five gigabytes (GB), at £5 per 5GB. Charges will appear on the bill. For more information on our broadband usage policy and to find out what products are impacted, please go to bt.com/broadbandusagepolicy. To monitor your monthly usage, please go to bt.com/broadbandusagemonitor.

Update to email notification for broadband usage: From 23 March 2013 we're sending emails to your active BT primary email address (e.g. btinternet.com) that was set up when you ordered broadband or an alternative email address that you have given us for the purpose of contacting you. For more information please visit bt.com/broadbandusagepolicy

Paper bill fee: From 1 July 2013 there will be a £1.50 fee for BT Broadband customers who get a paper bill, to cover costs such as printing and postage. To avoid this, sign up to My BT and choose paper-free billing if you have not done so already. Go to bt.com/mybt with your account number (found on the bill) to sign up. If you have a My BT username but haven't yet activated your account just log on to My BT to switch to paper-free. If you already use My BT but also receive bills in the post, just log in to your account and stop paper billing. We will also send you a separate letter between April and June to remind you. Some customers will be exempt from this fee, for example customers on BT Basic, those who pay the payment processing fee, or those who receive alternative media bills. If you don't want to use My BT or pay the £1.50 and you decide to stop your BT services, we won't charge you for ending your contract early. But you must get in touch with us to do it within 10 days of receiving this. To find out more about this price change, visit bt.com/help/paperbillfee Changes to BT email terms: From 17 June 2013, you'll need to log in to your BT email account at least once every 150 days. If you don't, we'll presume you don't use your email account anymore and we'll close it. For more information visit bt.com/emailterms
