Scaife, T. J. Skilled Workman, Class II., Engineering Department.	Corporal, Royal Engineers	do.
Scott, William Postman, Christchurch.	Gunner, Royal Field Artillery	do.

A further list of names which have reached this office is in course of preparation.

Postmasters and other Supervising Officers should report to the Secretary without delay any information that may reach them of the names of Post Office Servants killed in action, died of wounds or disease, or mentioned in despatches, for incorporation in future lists.

Enlistment of Post Office Servants in Royal Engineers Signal Companies of the Regular Army and the Territorial Force, and in the Royal Engineers Special Reserve, Postal Section.

The Postmaster General is highly gratified at the large number of applications for enlistment which have been received from Sorting Clerks & Telegraphists, Telegraphists, Counter Clerks & Telegraphists and Sorters; and there is every likelihood that all applicants from these classes who can be spared from their Post Office duties and who are eligible for enlistment will be required in due course for military service. Owing to the ready response of Post Office Servants to the call for men with Postal or Telegraph qualifications for Royal Engineers Signal Companies and for the Royal Engineers Postal Section, it has been possible to meet every demand of the military authorities for recruits without any delay whatever. A number of men have been enlisted into these units every week since the outbreak of war.

In certain places, e.g., the South Western Surveying District, where altogether exceptional pressure exists, it has been necessary to suspend recruiting for a time; but, as soon as circumstances permit, applications for enlistment from these places will receive full consideration.

Postmasters should not discourage men from applying for enlistment, even though delay in carrying out enlistments may occur in some cases. The Post Office is practically the only source whence men with the necessary qualifications for service in Signal and Postal units can be obtained, and it is important that there should be a large reserve of applicants, so that in the future as in the past men may be forthcoming, when required for service, without any delay.

It is regretted that it has not been possible to send acknowledgments from Headquarters to all applications received; but the applications are filed and every applicant will eventually be communicated with.

Gallant Conduct.

THE POSTMASTER GENERAL has heard with much pleasure that the Carnegie Hero Trust Fund have awarded a silver watch, suitably inscribed, to Mr. Paul L. Murray, Skilled Workman in training at Belfast, for endeavouring to rescue a man from drowning on the 19th of August last; and also that the Royal Humane Society have awarded their Honorary Certificate to Mr. Israel Biggs, Postman at Maidstone, for saving two men from drowning on the 19th of April last.

APPOINTMENTS.

Mr. J. W. Knowles, Superintendent, Kettering, to be Postmaster of Heywood.
Mr. T. Freeman, Postmaster of Kilmallock, to be Postmaster of Birr.

VACANCIES.

POSTMASTERSHIP OF WORKSOP.—Salary, £285 a year.
SALARIED SUB-POSTMASTERSHIP OF HARPENDEN, ST. ALBANS.—Salary, £185 a year.
" " REDLAND, T.S.O., BRISTOL.—Salary, £135 a year.

The salary named in each case constitutes the entire remuneration for all branches of duty.

Candidates may offer themselves, through their superior officers, not later than the 30th instant.

The special attention of candidates is called to the rule which, in the case of vacancies or promotions, strictly prohibits them from applying except through their immediate superior officers. (See Staff Rule Book, Rule 24.)

The object of this Regulation is to maintain the principle that promotion should be made solely with a view to the efficiency of the service, and on an impartial comparison of the qualifications of the candidates. In fairness to all the candidates it is not considered just that any one of them should be permitted to secure influential outside support which is not available for his competitors.

Any candidate who infringes this regulation renders himself liable to disqualification for appointment, and, under certain circumstances, to severer penalties.

Temporary Assistants.

Temporary Assistants are required at the undermentioned offices.

Third class personal locomotion expenses are allowed.

Full particulars can be obtained from the Surveyors, &c., of the districts concerned. Candidates should apply through the usual official channels.

ABERDEEN (Postmaster, Aberdeen), Males preferred, for Postal and Telegraph work.
IPSWICH (Surveyor, Ipswich), Males for Postal and Telegraph work.
SOUTH EASTERN DISTRICT (Surveyor, Croydon), Males and Females for Postal and Telegraph work.
SOUTH WESTERN DISTRICT (Surveyor, Portsmouth), Males and Females for Postal and Telegraph work.

Correspondence for Members of the British Expeditionary Force.

With reference to the notices which appeared in the Post Office Circulars of the 18th and 25th August and the 13th October last on the subject of the circulation of correspondence for the British Expeditionary Force, bulky letter packets which cannot be included in the labelled bundles of letters should be forwarded to the Foreign Section, London, in the enclosure bags containing packets of printed papers. Separate enclosure bags should be used when the number of packets of printed papers and bulky letter packets reaches 20 or more. When enclosure bags are used, the labelled bundles of letters and postcards should also be enclosed in them.

Correspondence for Members of the Indian Expeditionary Force.

All correspondence (including parcels) for the Indian Expeditionary Force should circulate direct to the S.W.D.O., whether addressed by the senders to the care of the India Office or not.

POST OFFICE RELIEF FUND.

The question has been raised whether, in view of the improved scale of Government Pensions to the Widows of Sailors and Soldiers, the increased Contributions asked for in the Circular of the 10th November are now needed.

The answer is, that when making the further appeal the Committee were fully aware that the Government intended to increase the separation and pension allowances: but it was clear that there would still be so many and such considerable demands upon the Fund that, unless the contributions were increased, it would be necessary either to continue collecting money for some years after the termination of the War or to restrict the payment of benefits to a limited period. The Committee felt that the first course was undesirable and also that the Service would feel that its credit was involved in the continuance of payments to widows and orphans so long as might be necessary. It was therefore decided to ask for such a sum as would make the period of collection approximate to the duration of the War, while providing for the payment of benefits so long as might be necessary.

But it will no doubt be asked what is the money wanted for?

Firstly and mainly to increase the Government Pensions to Widows. These ought to be made up, until re-marriage or death, to the amount of the Separation Allowances, which the Committee think will be held by no one to be extravagant. There are now on the Fund 160 Widows, so that if the War lasts another year and the same rate is maintained there will then be over 800. It has not as yet been possible to obtain actuarial calculations of the sum of money which will be required in that event, but the price of annuities may afford some clue, although there is no present intention of buying annuities. Some of the Widows will doubtless re-marry, but assuming that the additional supplementary payment to each Widow is only £8 a year (about 3s. a week) the cost of an annuity would be about £160, and of 800 would be £128,000. The Titanic Fund may perhaps serve as an indication. That Fund had about £800 for each case; if the Post Office Fund gave one-fifth only of that relief it would want £160 a case. The contributions to and the probable receipts of the Fund at the time the second appeal was made would have left only about £40,000 at the end of the year after immediate cases of relief had been dealt with.

The chief expenditure in immediate cases, now that the separation allowances are more or less in order, is in respect of confinement, illness, high rent, dependants without separation allowances, and in a few exceptional instances debts which call for sympathetic assistance.

The Committee hold it important in the cases of orphans to make grants in aid of secondary or technical education and in suitable cases to pay apprenticeship fees; and it will also be found necessary in a number of cases to grant pensions at the full separation rates to dependants who do not come within the Admiralty and War Office rules, and in some instances to supplement the pensions to disabled sailors and soldiers.

The Committee feel therefore that notwithstanding the improved Government Pensions the supporters of the Fund will fully realise the necessity for the second appeal and respond generously.

The Post Office Hospitals at 20, Kensington Palace Gardens and Bolney House were honoured by a visit from Queen Mary on the afternoon of the 27th November. Her Majesty expressed the greatest satisfaction with the accommodation provided. She visited most of the wards, displaying considerable interest in all the arrangements, and conversed with many of the patients.

POST OFFICE RELIEF FUND.

The Army Council have issued instructions to all Commands that ex-Post Office employés wounded or incapacitated should have the option of being transferred from Military Hospitals to one of the Post Office Hospitals. Patients desiring such transfer should be advised by their friends to apply to the Officer in Charge of their Hospital and request him to communicate with the Lady Superintendent at 20, Kensington Palace Gardens, London, W. (Telephone No. 2361 Park).

In the case of the Post Office Hospital at Bolney House, Ennismore Gardens, Mr. and the Hon. Mrs. Oswald Partington have informed the Committee that it is their wish to defray the whole of the expenses. This hospital for 10 patients is equipped and run on a very generous scale, and all the staff of the Post Office will appreciate the kindness of the owners of the house in relieving the Fund of even the cost of the nurses.

SALARIED SUB-POSTMASTERSHIP OF LYNDHURST, LYMINGTON.—Salary, £170 a year.

The incoming Sub-Postmaster of Lyndhurst may be required to occupy an official residence.

The salary named in each case constitutes the entire remuneration for all branches of duty.

Candidates may offer themselves, through their superior officers, not later than the 21st instant.

The object of this Regulation is to maintain the principle that promotion should be made solely with a view to the efficiency of the service, and on an impartial comparison of the qualifications of the candidates. In fairness to all the candidates it is not considered just that any one of them should be permitted to secure influential outside support which is not available for his competitors.

Any candidate who infringes this regulation renders himself liable to disqualification for appointment, and, under certain circumstances, to severer penalties.

The Postmaster General is glad to be able to announce that he has obtained Treasury Authority for the allowance of full civil pay, in addition to military pay, to Post Office Servants holding Commissions, or serving as Office Telegraphists or Line Telegraphists in Royal Engineers Signal Companies of the Territorial Force; and to the Officers and men of the Army Postal Service, R.E., Territorial Force.

The new regulations will come into force as from the 11th of December, 1914.

Post Office Servants holding Commissions in Royal Engineers Signal Companies of the New Armies will also receive full civil pay in addition to military pay.

The Regulations will thus in future be uniform for all Post Office Servants enlisted for Postal and Telegraph work in the Royal Engineers.

POST OFFICE RELIEF FUND.

There is reason to believe that the response to the fresh appeal recently issued has been generally satisfactory, but the results will not be definitely known until after the New Year.

In consequence of the decision of the Government to continue Separation Allowances and Allotments for 26 weeks after notification of death of sailors or soldiers, assistance from the Post Office Fund would not ordinarily, that is to say in the absence of special features, be given during that period; and it has become necessary to reconsider the restriction which, as notified in the Post Office Circular of the 13th October, was imposed on the dependants of Post Office servants with regard to the acceptance of Grants from the Royal Patriotic Fund Corporation, as they seemed likely to be worse off, at all events for the time being, than those to whom the Patriotic Fund grants would be made.

In order that Widows receiving relief from the Post Office Fund may not, even temporarily, be at a disadvantage, the Post Office Relief Committee has decided itself to make a grant at the rates applied by the Royal Patriotic Fund—provided of course that the recipient has received no grant from that body. It is the intention to forward these grants to the Local Committees for distribution at their discretion but adjustments will have to be made in certain cases.

POST OFFICE ROLL OF HONOUR—(continued).

The Postmaster General has learnt with great pleasure that the following Officers of the Post Office, now on active service, have been honoured by mention in the Commander-in-Chief's despatches or by other mark of distinction.

Harrison, J. C. ..... Postman, L.P.S. (E. District)	Corporal, 2nd Battalion Grenadier Guards.....	Awarded the Distinguished Conduct Medal for Conspicuous Gallantry.
Walker, R, E..... Postman, Stonehaven (since died of wounds)	Lance-Corporal, 1st Battalion Gordon Highlanders.....	Awarded the "Médaille Militaire" of the Legion of Honour.

Postmasters and other Supervising Officers should report to the Secretary without delay any information that may reach them of the names of Post Office Servants who are killed in action, who have died of wounds or disease, or who are mentioned in despatches, for incorporation in future lists.

Gallant Conduct.

THE POSTMASTER GENERAL has heard with much pleasure that the Royal Humane Society have awarded their Certificate on Vellum to Mr. J. A. Walker, Sorting Clerk and Telegraphist at Blackburn, for attempting at considerable personal risk to rescue a man from drowning on the 28th of June last.

APPOINTMENTS.

The Postmaster General has appointed Mr. E. H. Shears and Mr. V. Macan to be his Private Secretaries.

Mr. B. J. Bebbington, Postmaster of Folkestone, to be Postmaster of Crewe.

" " Padstow, Bodmin.—Salary, £130 a year.

The salary named in each case constitutes the entire remuneration for all branches of duty.

Candidates may offer themselves, through their superior officers, not later than the 8th instant.

The object of this Regulation is to maintain the principle that promotion should be made solely with a view to the efficiency of the service, and on an impartial comparison of the qualifications of the candidates. In fairness to all the candidates it is not considered just that any one of them should be permitted to secure influential outside support which is not available for his competitors.

Any candidate who infringes this regulation renders himself liable to disqualification for appointment, and, under certain circumstances, to severer penalties

Postmasters and other Supervising Officers should report to the Secretary without delay any information that may reach them of the names of Post Office Servants who are killed in action, who have died of wounds or disease, who are mentioned in despatches, or who receive promotion in the Army or Navy. In reporting cases of promotion the circumstances should if possible be stated.

APPOINTMENTS.

Mr. E. L. Dunne, Postmaster of Pembroke Dock, to be Postmaster of Slough.
Mr. J. Hunter, Postmaster of Huntingdon, to be Postmaster of Hawick.

VACANCIES.

POSTMASTERSHIP OF TAUNTON.—Salary, £495 a year.
" " ELY.—Salary, £290 a year.

The salary named in each case constitutes the entire remuneration for all branches of duty.

Candidates may offer themselves, through their superior officers, not later than the 26th instant.

The object of this regulation is to maintain the principle that promotion should be made solely with a view to the efficiency of the service, and on an impartial comparison of the qualifications of the candidates. In fairness to all the candidates it is not considered just that any one of them should be permitted to secure influential outside support which is not available for his competitors.

Any candidate who infringes this regulation renders himself liable to disqualification for appointment, and, in certain circumstances, to severer penalties.

The salary named in each case constitutes the entire remuneration for all branches of duty.

Candidates may offer themselves, through their superior officers, not later than the 21st instant.

The object of this regulation is to maintain the principle that promotion should be made solely with a view to the efficiency of the service, and on an impartial comparison of the qualifications of the candidates. In fairness to all the candidates it is not considered just that any one of them should be permitted to secure influential outside support which is not available for his competitors.

Any candidate who infringes this regulation renders himself liable to disqualification for appointment, and, under certain circumstances, to severer penalties.

Temporary Assistants.

Temporary Assistants are required at the undermentioned offices.

Third class personal locomotion expenses are allowed.

Full particulars can be obtained from the Surveyors, &c., of the districts concerned. Candidates should apply through the usual official channels.

WAR LOAN.

It is essential that copies of the prospectus, leaflet, and form of application issued in connection with the War Loan should be readily available at all Post Offices. A stock of each should be placed in a prominent position accessible to the public.

ENLISTMENT OF SORTERS AND SORTING CLERKS AND TELEGRAPHISTS AT DIVIDED OFFICES.

The Postmaster General wishes the attention of the members of the staff (including Sorters and Sorting Clerks and Telegraphists on the Postal side at Divided Offices) to be drawn to the fact that the 3rd Battalion of the Post Office Rifles is urgently in need of recruits.

The Post Office Rifles have always had a high reputation for general efficiency and the 1st Battalion has for some months been serving with distinction in France.

Special arrangements can be made for the enlistment of men residing at a distance from London.

As stated in Post Office Circular of 22nd June, permission to join a combatant unit cannot at present be granted to any man with telegraphic qualifications.

Postmasters and other Supervising Officers should report to the Secretary without delay any information that may reach them of the names of Post Office Servants who are killed in action, who have died of wounds or disease, or who are mentioned in despatches, for incorporation in future lists.

BOOKS AND MAGAZINES FOR SOLDIERS AND SAILORS—(continued).

The following cannot be accepted:—

(a) Newspapers, whether daily or weekly, illustrated or not;
(b) Books or magazines—
  (i.) written in a language other than English (unless it be an educational text book),
  (ii.) dirty,
  (iii.) incomplete,
  (iv.) known to have been exposed to infection (any such book or magazine if not discovered to have been exposed to infection until after acceptance should be destroyed),
  (v.) handed in merely to propagate a particular view (as stated in the public notice what are chiefly wanted are monthly illustrated magazines and novels),
  (vi.) wrapped or packed in any way,
  (vii.) addressed to any particular soldier or unit (unless, of course, they be prepaid and addressed in the ordinary way as a postal packet).
(c) Magazines more than a year old.

No book or magazine intended to be dealt with under this arrangement should be put into a letter box. Any book or magazine found in a letter box should, if eligible, be treated as if it had been handed in at a Post Office, but if any trouble arises through the blocking of letter boxes or otherwise a report should be made.

A book or magazine found in a letter box which is not eligible for acceptance should be sent to the proper Returned Letter Branch for disposal or should be destroyed if obviously useless, and all newspapers found in letter boxes should be treated in the same way as ineligible books and magazines.

No kind of receipt or acknowledgment can be given to anyone who hands in a book or magazine under this arrangement but the Postmaster General will be glad if donors were verbally thanked on his behalf.

The Postmaster General feels sure that he may count upon the readiness of all Post Office servants to help in giving to our soldiers and sailors a boon which he is assured they will greatly value.

VACANCIES.

POSTMASTERSHIP OF WARMINSTER.—Salary, £225 a year.
The salary named constitutes the entire remuneration for all branches of duty.
Candidates may offer themselves, through their superior officers, not later than the 26th instant.

The object of this regulation is to maintain the principle that promotion should be made solely with a view to the efficiency of the service, and on an impartial comparison of the qualifications of the candidates. In fairness to all the candidates it is not considered just that any one of them should be permitted to secure influential outside support which is not available for his competitors.

Any candidate who infringes this regulation renders himself liable to disqualification for appointment, and, under certain circumstances, to severer penalties.

POST OFFICE ROLL OF HONOUR.

THE POSTMASTER GENERAL has much pleasure in notifying, for the information of the staff, that Lieutenant-Colonel John Harvey, Officer Commanding, 1st Battalion, Post Office Rifles, has been appointed Companion of the Distinguished Service Order in recognition of his gallantry and devotion to duty in the Field.

As reported in the London Gazette of the 29th of October, the appointment has been specifically approved by His Majesty the King because of Colonel Harvey's "conspicuous ability, coolness and "devotion to duty in the command of his unit during the attack on the German trenches at Festubert "on the 25th and 26th May, 1915. His gallant example greatly aided the successful attack."

The Postmaster General has learnt with deep regret that the following Officers of the Post Office have lost their lives in the Service of their Country while serving with the Naval or Military Forces of His Majesty.

RECRUITING APPEAL.

In order to remove certain misconceptions that have arisen in connection with the Recruiting Appeal, the Postmaster General thinks it well to state that, generally speaking, it will not be possible to release men from their Post Office duties till the Christmas pressure is over.

Exceptions to this will be made, where possible, in the case of men who have special reasons for joining units at once, but no man should enlist for immediate service without the permission of his superior officers.

Men who have signified their willingness to enlist will be attested by the local recruiting authorities, and passed at once into the Army Reserve, to be called up for active service along with the group in which they are placed under Lord Derby's scheme, on the same basis as the population generally. Under this scheme the unmarried men are to be called up first, in order of age, and subsequently the married men, also in order of age. Every effort will be made to release Post Office servants after Christmas, as their groups are called up; but in some cases it may be necessary to obtain the consent of the military authorities for the transfer of a man from an earlier to a later group, in order to provide adequately for the performance of his Post Office duties.

On being passed into the Reserve, men will receive a khaki armlet, which they will be allowed to wear when on duty.

There are certain classes of Post Office servants who cannot, on account of the nature of their duties, be spared under any circumstances for enlistment in combatant units. To members of these classes the Postmaster General's letter of 25th October has not been addressed.

POST OFFICE CIRCULAR.

TUESDAY, 30 NOVEMBER, 1915.

No. 2266.

The Postmaster General understands from the Parliamentary Recruiting Committee that in some instances officers who have been informed that they can be spared for enlistment are declining to offer themselves to be attested at once under Lord Derby's scheme on the ground that they cannot be released by the Post Office till after Christmas.

The Postmaster General wishes to state that it is important that such officers should be attested at once and transferred to the Army Reserve, as recruitment under Lord Derby's scheme will, according to present announcements, only be possible up to December 11th. The notice in the Post Office Circular of November 9th explains how Post Office servants attested before December 11th will be called up.

The Postmaster General is also informed that some officers, who have received his letter telling them they can be spared, have told the canvassers that they leave themselves, or that they are, in the hands of the Postmaster General. These officers may assume that it is Mr. Samuel's desire that all men who can be released for military service should offer themselves for enlistment in Lord Derby's groups now.

POSTMASTERSHIP OF ASHTON-UNDER-LYNE.—Salary, £380 a year.

The salary named constitutes the entire remuneration for all branches of duty.

Candidates may offer themselves, through their superior officers, not later than the 6th proximo.

The object of this regulation is to maintain the principle that promotion should be made solely with a view to the efficiency of the service, and on an impartial comparison of the qualifications of the candidates. In fairness to all the candidates it is not considered just that any one of them should be permitted to secure influential outside support which is not available for his competitors.

Any candidate who infringes this regulation renders himself liable to disqualification for appointment, and, in certain circumstances, to severer penalties.

ENLISTMENT OF POST OFFICE SERVANTS.

As recruiting under Lord Derby's scheme comes to an end on December the 11th, the Postmaster General is anxious that no Post Office servant should miss the opportunity of enlisting under this scheme owing to any doubt or misunderstanding as to the conditions under which the Post Office staff are being released.

A letter has been addressed by the Postmaster General to practically every man of military age, temporary or permanent (with the exception of telegraph operators), inviting them to volunteer for military service under Lord Derby's scheme.

All Officers who received such a letter (with the exception of skilled workmen who desire to enlist in the Royal Engineers Signal Section) should, if they are willing to enlist, make arrangements to be attested before December the 11th. They should take with them to the Recruiting Office the buff slip which has been issued to them bearing the words "Mr..... is a Post Office Servant." They should show this to the attesting officer, who will then know that they are not to be withdrawn from their civil occupation at once unless they can obtain the consent of their superior officers, but are to be transferred to the Army Reserve, Class B. They will be called up when the turn of their group arrives, provided that arrangements can be made for their release from civil duties. In the meantime, they will be provided with a khaki armlet, which they will be allowed to wear whilst on duty.

There is reason to believe that some officers did not show the buff slip at the Recruiting Office on attestation. It is desired that these persons should call at the Recruiting Office and show the slip, as it is important that Post Office servants should have a note against their name in the Register of Recruits.

All men who are attested should report the fact to their superior Officers, giving particulars of the place and date of attestation.

Telegraph operators to whom the Postmaster General's special letter to telegraphists was addressed, and skilled workmen who desire to enlist in the Royal Engineers Signal Section, should not present themselves for attestation pending further instructions. It is probable that a larger number of skilled workmen have volunteered for the Royal Engineers Signal Section than are likely to be required. The requisite number of men will be selected as quickly as possible, in order to give the remainder an opportunity of enlisting for general service.

If there are any officers who are in doubt upon any point arising in connection with the Postmaster General's letter, it is most important, in view of the short time which is left, that they should take the necessary steps to have all doubt removed either by writing at once to the Private Secretary to the Postmaster General or by approaching their Postmaster, who will no doubt be able to give them the necessary information.

These arrangements are subject to some modification in the case of the staff employed in Ireland.

Christmas Boxes.

For the guidance of Postmasters who may be called upon to decide disputes in the matter of the distribution of Christmas Boxes the Postmaster General publishes the following expression of opinion which he has conveyed to the Postmen's Federation in reply to certain representations made by them:—

"The circumstances of the impending Christmas Season will be in many respects unprece"dented and such as to create feelings of disappointment in the minds of officers who find "themselves deprived of advantages which, under normal conditions, they would have obtained.
"In these circumstances he has no hesitation in expressing his personal opinion that the fairest "method of distribution to meet these special conditions will be found to lie in some form of
"pooling system."

No. 2271.

It has been arranged with the War Office that no Post Office servant who has been attested under Lord Derby's scheme should be called up until the Postmaster General has intimated that arrangements can be made for his release.

Any Post Office servant therefore who receives a letter from the recruiting authorities calling him up for service should at once report the fact to his superior officers. He will receive instructions before the date fixed for his enlistment.

Telegraphists who received the Postmaster General's letter of 29 October, and Skilled Workmen included in the revised Waiting List for the Royal Engineers, will not be called up with the groups into which they fall; but will be retained in their civil positions until they are required for enlistment in the Signal Service.

TUESDAY, 18 JANUARY, 1916.

No. 2275.

At the moment of terminating my second tenure of the office of Postmaster General, I desire to express my cordial thanks to all grades of the Staff for the readiness with which they have responded to every call which the conditions of the times through which we are passing have obliged me to make upon them. They have maintained as high a standard of efficiency in the conduct of the service as the difficult circumstances have rendered possible, and have thereby done much to promote the successful organization of the nation for the prosecution of the War.

To myself, personally, the Staff have always shown a feeling of goodwill which I deeply appreciate and for which I would offer them my sincere thanks.

POST OFFICE CIRCULAR.

TUESDAY, 25 JANUARY, 1916.

No. 2276.

The Rt. Hon. J. A. Pease, M.P., has been appointed to succeed The Rt. Hon. Herbert Samuel, M.P., as Postmaster General.

Post Office Servants in Groups 2, 3, 4 and 5.

Any Post Office Servant in Groups 2, 3, 4 and 5 (i.e., unmarried men of 19, 20, 21 and 22, who were attested under Lord Derby's scheme before 11th December) should, if they have not received a summons from the military authorities, present themselves at the appropriate Recruiting Office without delay after ascertaining from their superior officer that they can be spared.

Men who have sent in their names to the Post Office Rifles should take care to make it clear that they desire to join this Regiment, and that they have sent in their names for this purpose under an arrangement approved by the Postmaster General and the War Office.

The foregoing does not of course apply to telegraphists or to Skilled Workmen whose names appear on the Waiting Lists for the Royal Engineers. Any telegraphist who wishes to enlist in a combatant unit should, as stated in the Post Office Circular of the 4th instant, give in his name to his superior officer.

The object of this regulation is to maintain the principle that promotion should be made solely with a view to the efficiency of the service, and on an impartial comparison of the qualifications of the candidates. In fairness to all the candidates it is not considered just that any one of them should be permitted to secure influential outside support which is not available for his competitors.

Any candidate who infringes this regulation renders himself liable to disqualification for appointment, and, in certain circumstances, to severer penalties.

Post Office Servants due to be called up under Lord Derby's scheme in Groups 14—23.

Any Post Office servant included in Groups 14-23 due to be called up on March 18th should, if he has not received a notice from the Military Authorities, present himself at the appropriate Recruiting Office without delay after ascertaining from his Superior Officer that he can be spared. He will then be informed by the Recruiting Officer in due course of the date on which he is required to join the Colours and should take steps at once to pass the information on to his Superior Officer in order that the necessary arrangements may be made for his release.

The foregoing does not apply to Telegraphists or Skilled Workmen whose names appear in the Waiting Lists for the Royal Engineers.

APPOINTMENTS.

Mr. W. H. Sandoe, Postmaster of Slough, to be Postmaster of Boston.

Mr. J. I. Williams, Sub-Postmaster, Trefriw, Llandudno, to be Salaried Sub-Postmaster, Connah's Quay, Chester.

VACANCIES.

SALARIED SUB-POSTMASTERSHIP OF CROWBOROUGH, TUNBRIDGE WELLS.—Salary, £165 a year.

" " CRICCIETH, PORTMADOC.—Salary, £110 a year.

The incoming Sub-Postmasters of Crowborough and Criccieth will be required to occupy the official residences for which an annual rental will be charged at the rate of 14 per cent. of the salary. At Criccieth the accommodation comprises two sitting rooms, four bedrooms, kitchen, scullery and usual offices. The Sub-Postmaster of Criccieth will also be required to attend to Telephone calls at night and on Sundays when the staff is not on duty and for this he will receive remuneration at the usual rates.

With this exception the salary named in each case constitutes the entire remuneration for all branches of duty.

Candidates may offer themselves, through their superior officers, not later than the 27th instant.

The object of this regulation is to maintain the principle that promotion should be made solely with a view to the efficiency of the service, and on an impartial comparison of the qualifications of the candidates. In fairness to all the candidates it is not considered just that any one of them should be permitted to secure influential outside support which is not available for his competitors.

Any candidate who infringes this regulation renders himself liable to disqualification for appointment, and, in certain circumstances, to severer penalties.

APPEALS IN DISCIPLINE CASES.

The Postmaster General has had under his consideration the question of modifying the practice in regard to appeals in discipline cases and has decided that, in future, the practice shall be as follows:—

(1) That (as hitherto) a punishment shall be noted by the officer concerned at once.

(2) That if he does not, within 3 days, notify his superior officer in writing of his intention to appeal and forward his appeal within a week after the expiry of the 3 days, his right to appeal normally lapses. Cases where an officer claims that he has been subsequently enabled to produce evidence not available to him within 3 days of noting his punishment will be specially considered on their merits.

(3) That punishment shall not be inflicted until 3 days have elapsed; and, in cases where notice of appeal is given and the appeal duly forwarded, action shall be postponed until a decision has been given on the appeal.

The same procedure will apply to second appeals made by individuals.

In cases where an officer desires to appeal through the Central Body of his Association, notice of his intention to ask his Association to appeal must be given within 3 days of the rejection of his own appeal. Punishment will then be postponed for a period not exceeding a fortnight during which the officer must produce a communication from the Central Body of his Association to the effect that an appeal has been forwarded to Headquarters on his behalf. In the absence of such a communication the punishment will be proceeded with.

These rules are not intended to apply to cases where suspension from duty is involved.

POSTMASTERSHIP OF SOUTHEND-ON-SEA.—Salary, £505 a year.
" " HAWICK.—Salary, £335 a year.
" " EVESHAM.—Salary, £320 a year.
SALARIED SUB-POSTMASTERSHIP OF NEWNHAM, GLOUCESTER.—Salary, £120 a year.

The salary named in each case constitutes the entire remuneration for all branches of duty.

Candidates may offer themselves, through their superior officers, not later than the 22nd instant.

The object of this regulation is to maintain the principle that promotion should be made solely with a view to the efficiency of the service, and on an impartial comparison of the qualifications of the candidates. In fairness to all the candidates it is not considered just that any one of them should be permitted to secure influential outside support which is not available for his competitors.

Any candidate who infringes this regulation renders himself liable to disqualification for appointment, and, in certain circumstances, to severer penalties.

VACANCIES.

POSTMASTERSHIP OF HUNTINGDON.—Salary, £310 a year.
" " BLYTH.—Salary, £275 a year.

The salary named in each case constitutes the entire remuneration for all branches of duty.

Candidates may offer themselves, through their superior officers, not later than the 31st instant.

The special attention of candidates is called to the rule which, in the case of vacancies or promotions, strictly prohibits them from applying except through their immediate superior officers. (See Staff Rule Book, Rule 28.)

The object of this regulation is to maintain the principle that promotion should be made solely with a view to the efficiency of the service, and on an impartial comparison of the qualifications of the candidates. In fairness to all the candidates it is not considered just that any one of them should be permitted to secure influential outside support which is not available for his competitors.

Any candidate who infringes this regulation renders himself liable to disqualification for appointment, and, in certain circumstances, to severer penalties.

Entertainments Duty Stamps.

At all Offices where Entertainments Duty Stamps are on sale, Postmasters, &c., should show as a separate item of the Balance in hand on the Cash Account for the last day of each month the total value of the Entertainments Duty Stamps remaining in hand after the close of business.

In reporting cases of promotion the circumstances should if possible be stated.

POST OFFICE RELIEF FUND.

A notice giving particulars of the work of the Fund is being distributed with this issue of the Post Office Circular.

Heads of Departments, Postmasters, &c., will, it is hoped, be able to arrange for the notices to be exhibited in positions where they will be seen by the staff. The name of the local Secretary, or other representative, should be inserted in the space provided for the purpose.

Additional copies of the notice can be obtained on application to the Honorary Secretary, Post Office Relief Fund, St. Martin's-le-Grand, London.

ARMY AND NAVY ALLOWANCES.

Change of Office of Payment: Form Postmasters No. 80 to be carefully addressed.

Attention is urgently called to the latter part of Rule 20 (c) relating to Army and Navy Allowances, viz: that the address on the back of the upper part of Form Postmasters No. 80, must be correctly filled in before the form is posted.

Notices on this subject appeared in the Post Office Circular on the 2nd of May last and previous dates; but it is stated that Forms No. 80 insufficiently or incorrectly addressed are received at the War Office daily and in increasing numbers.

Postmasters should see that every officer who has occasion to handle these forms clearly understands that two of the three alternative addresses must be struck out, and the remaining address completed as shown on the cover of the book of Allowance Forms.

No. 2308.

The National War Savings Committee has asked the Postmaster General to convey to the Staff an expression of its appreciation of the services that the Post Office is rendering in stimulating the sale of War Savings Certificates and the use of War Savings Cards. The Committee looks upon this as a national duty of the first importance and feels sure that it can rely upon the cordial co-operation of the Post Office Staff in dispelling the ignorance which still exists as to the nature and value of War Savings Certificates and War Savings Cards.

Postmasters and other Supervising Officers should report to the Secretary without delay any information that may reach them of the names of Post Office Servants who are killed in action, who have died of wounds or disease, who are mentioned in despatches, or who receive special promotion in the Army or Navy. In reporting cases of death the name and address of the person to whom the Postmaster General might properly send a Letter of Condolence should, if possible, be stated, together with the deceased officer's name in full and the date when his employment in the Post Office first began.

As stated in the Post Office Circular of the 27th October, 1914, particulars respecting any Naval or Military distinction bestowed should be entered in the Conduct Record of the man concerned.

POST OFFICE RIFLES.

The Post Office Rifles is still urgently in need of recruits. Post Office Servants who are now awaiting release for Service are invited to communicate with Captain W. R. Stephenson, R.O., Regimental Headquarters, Bunhill Row, E.C., who will at once reply with instructions.

Gallant Conduct.

THE POSTMASTER GENERAL has heard with much pleasure that the Royal Humane Society have awarded their Honorary Certificate to W. C. Pond, Boy Messenger, South Eastern District Office, London, for saving a boy from drowning on the 4th of June last.

VACANCIES.

POSTMASTERSHIP OF CARMARTHEN.—Salary, £340 a year.
" " PEMBROKE DOCK.—Salary, £285 a year.
" " CARLOW.—Salary, £250 a year.
SALARIED SUB-POSTMISTRESS-SHIP OF SOUTH NEWINGTON T.S.O., HULL.—Salary, £90 a year.

The salary named in each case constitutes the entire remuneration for all branches of duty.

Candidates may offer themselves, through their superior officers, not later than the 27th instant.

The special attention of candidates is called to the rule which, in the case of vacancies or promotions, strictly prohibits them from applying except through their immediate superior officers. (See Staff Rule Book, Rule 28.)

The object of this regulation is to maintain the principle that promotion should be made solely with a view to the efficiency of the service, and on an impartial comparison of the qualifications of the candidates. In fairness to all the candidates it is not considered just that any one of them should be permitted to secure influential outside support which is not available for his competitors.

Any candidate who infringes this regulation renders himself liable to disqualification for appointment, and, in certain circumstances, to severer penalties.

Temporary Indoor Officers.

Temporary Male and Female Indoor Officers are required in the South Wales and South Western Districts for Postal and Telegraph work.

Third class personal locomotion expenses are allowed.

Full particulars can be obtained from the Surveyor, Cardiff, and the Surveyor, Portsmouth, respectively. Candidates should apply through the usual official channels.

Males eligible for Military Service will not be accepted.

WAR SAVINGS CERTIFICATES.

Purchase of War Savings Certificates by Affiliated Associations.

Postmasters and other Officers concerned are again reminded that in the case of purchase of War Savings Certificates by Affiliated War Savings Associations the application (Form No. 8) must not be accepted unless signed by two officials of the Association.

Currency Notes in the Post.—Introduction of new Notice Card, Postmasters No. 580, for exhibition at all Post Offices.

Supplies of a new Notice Card—Postmasters No. 580—warning the public against sending Currency Notes through the Post in unregistered letters will shortly be distributed by the Post Office Stores Department to Head Postmasters for exhibition at all Head, District, Branch and Sub Offices. Further copies may be obtained on requisition in the usual way.

At Offices where there is a screen at the counter, the notice should be suspended from, or near, the top of the screen, leaving the space underneath unobstructed. It should be exhibited at the section of the counter where postage stamps are sold and also at any other section where currency notes are given out in payment of money. At Offices where there is no screen the notice should be exhibited in a conspicuous place.

The name of Second Lieutenant J. W. Salter, Assistant Clerk, Stores Department, appeared in the Roll of Honour on the 8th ultimo. The Postmaster General is glad to hear from the Army authorities that Mr. Salter is still alive: he is a Prisoner of War.

Postmasters and other Supervising Officers should report to the Secretary without delay any information that may reach them of the names of Post Office Servants who are killed in action, who have died of wounds or disease, who are mentioned in despatches, or who receive special promotion in the Army or Navy. In reporting cases of death the name and address of the person to whom the Postmaster General might properly send a Letter of Condolence should, if possible, be stated, together with the deceased officer's name in full and the date when his employment in the Post Office first began.

VACANCIES.

POSTMASTERSHIP OF BOGNOR.—Salary, £305 a year.

" " AIRDRIE.—Salary, £255 a year.

SALARIED SUB-POSTMASTERSHIP OF STANSTED, BISHOP'S STORTFORD.—Salary, £115 a year.

The incoming Sub-Postmaster of Stansted will be required to occupy the official residence for which an annual rent will be charged at the rate of 14 per cent. of his salary. The accommodation comprises sitting-room, living room, four bedrooms, bathroom, and the usual offices. There is also a garden. The Sub-Postmaster will be required to provide for Telephone attendance at night and on Sundays when the staff is not on duty and for this he will receive remuneration at the usual rates.

With this exception the salary named in each case constitutes the entire remuneration for all branches of duty.

Candidates may offer themselves, through their superior officers, not later than the 10th instant.

The special attention of candidates is called to the rule which, in the case of vacancies or promotions, strictly prohibits them from applying except through their immediate superior officers. (See Staff Rule Book, Rule 28.)

The object of this regulation is to maintain the principle that promotion should be made solely with a view to the efficiency of the service, and on an impartial comparison of the qualifications of the candidates. In fairness to all the candidates it is not considered just that any one of them should be permitted to secure influential outside support which is not available for his competitors.

Any candidate who infringes this regulation renders himself liable to disqualification for appointment, and, in certain circumstances, to severer penalties.

Currency Notes overprinted in Turkish Characters.

A certain number of Currency Notes supplied to the Mediterranean Expeditionary Force for the use of troops in the Dardanelles have been overprinted in Turkish characters. The printing is in heavy black type immediately above and below the words "One Pound" or "Ten Shillings." Such Notes may be accepted at Post Offices, provided they are otherwise in good order. After acceptance the Notes should be withdrawn from circulation and remitted in the usual way as "Worn or Soiled Notes unfit for re-issue."

Sub-Offices—Change of Address.

The addresses of the undermentioned Sub-Offices have been changed:—

Seskilgreen, Ballygawley, Co. Tyrone	Seskilgreen, Dungannon	,,

The circulation should be as for Dungannon by all Mails.

FOREIGN AND COLONIAL MAILS.

Magazine Post to Canada and Newfoundland.

The following alteration should be made in the printed list of periodicals placed on the Register:—

Enter Picture Fun, 32 Fleet Lane, Farringdon Street, E.C.

Mail Service to Italy.—Prohibited Articles.

The Notice which appeared under this heading in the Post Office Circular of 20th of June last (p. 248) is cancelled.

The following note should be added to the entry relating to Italy in col. 9, p. 739, of working copies of the Post Office Guide (Foreign and Colonial Mails):—"Jewellery, pictorial postcards and numerous other articles, chiefly of the nature of luxuries, may only be imported into Italy with the special permission of the Ministry of Finance (see Board of Trade Journal of 15th of June, 1916) and the Post Office accepts no responsibility for the rejection by the Italian Authorities of packets containing such articles."

The entry in the Post Office Guide relating to the Parcel Post was dealt with in last week's Circular.

The paragraphs under the heading "Italy" in the appendix to the Foreign and Colonial Parcel Post Rule Books for Head Postmasters and Sub-Postmasters should be reinstated.

WAR BONUS.

His Majesty's Government has authorized the following rates of War Bonus for Post Office servants in place of those announced in the Post Office Circular of the 7th September, 1915.

The revised War Bonus will be payable as from the 1st July last and it will continue for the period of the War only.

(a) 4s. a week to Male Post Office servants, 18 years of age or upwards, who are employed on full-time duties and whose ordinary remuneration (including allowances, but excluding pay for Sunday duty, extra duty, &c.), does not exceed 40s. a week:

(b) 3s. a week to officers similar to those described above whose ordinary remuneration exceeds 40s. a week but does not exceed 60s. a week; with such addition as may be necessary to afford minimum remuneration of 44s. a week:

(c) Such payments to officers with remuneration exceeding 60s. a week as will prevent their receiving less than officers coming under (b):

(d) Pro rata payments to part-time male officers falling within the above limits of age and remuneration:

(e) To Female Post Office servants and to Male Post Office servants below 18 years of age falling within the above limits of remuneration one half the amounts to be paid to men of 18 years of age or upwards under similar circumstances:

(f) To temporary staff, male and female, on the same basis as to permanent staff:

(g) 10 per cent. to Scale Payment Sub-Postmasters whose gross annual payments do not exceed £104 per annum:

(h) 3s. a week to Scale Payment Sub-Postmasters whose gross annual payments exceed £104 but do not exceed £169 10s. per annum.

The War Bonus will be allowed to count for the purpose of calculating the civil pay of married men serving in His Majesty's Forces (subject to existing regulations as to service pay) but it will not be payable to single men or to widowers without dependent children so serving, or to men attached to Signal Companies and to the Postal Section of the Royal Engineers, who receive both military and civil pay without deductions.

The Bonus will not be taken into account in the calculation of Sunday duty and extra duty rates or of pensions and gratuities.

Post Office servants who, as a result of advances granted in outside trades, or otherwise, have already been granted increases of salary or wages (other than Post Office War Bonus) on account of war conditions will not be eligible for the revised war bonus. If, however, the amount of such increases is less than would be received under the above terms the officers concerned will be allowed the Post Office War Bonus in place of the increase granted in outside trades.

Detailed instructions will be issued to Postmasters, Superintending Engineers, &c., as soon as possible.

The wages of the temporary staff will shortly be increased in certain cases, independently of the War Bonus.

" " " SHAW, OLDHAM.—Salary, £135 a year.

The incoming Sub-Postmasters of Aldeburgh and Shaw may be required to occupy an official residence.

The salary named in each case constitutes the entire remuneration for all branches of duty.

Candidates may offer themselves, through their superior officers, not later than the 1st proximo.

The special attention of candidates is called to the rule which, in the case of vacancies or promotions, strictly prohibits them from applying except through their immediate superior officers. (See Staff Rule Book, Rule 28.)

The object of this regulation is to maintain the principle that promotion should be made solely with a view to the efficiency of the service, and on an impartial comparison of the qualifications of the candidates. In fairness to all the candidates it is not considered just that any one of them should be permitted to secure influential outside support which is not available for his competitors.

Any candidate who infringes this regulation renders himself liable to disqualification for appointment, and, in certain circumstances, to severer penalties.

WAR BONUS.

The Postmaster General understands from the reports he has read and statements made at meetings of the staff that there is an impression that, whereas the War Bonus given by the Woodhouse Award might continue for a period after the War, the recent decision lays it down that the War Bonus is to cease at the end of the War. The Postmaster General wishes it to be known that any rights accruing to the staff of the Post Office under the Woodhouse Award stands unimpaired.

Postmasters and other Supervising Officers should report to the Secretary without delay any information that may reach them of the names of Post Office Servants who are killed in action, who have died of wounds or disease, who are mentioned in despatches, or who receive special promotion in the Army or Navy. In reporting cases of death the name and address of the person to whom the Postmaster General might properly send a Letter of Condolence should, if possible, be stated, together with the deceased officer's name in full and the date when his employment in the Post Office first began.

The attention of Postmasters, &c., is directed to Rule 624 of the Rules for Head Post Offices, Part 1, with special reference to the cases of officers who lose their lives in the War. If it is found that the instructions in question have been overlooked in any instance, the matter should receive immediate attention.

VACANCIES.

Postmastership of Beccles.—Salary, £200 a year.

The incoming Postmaster of Beccles may be required to occupy an official residence.

The salary named constitutes the entire remuneration for all branches of duty.

Candidates may offer themselves, through their superior officers, not later than the 23rd instant.

The special attention of candidates is called to the rule which, in the case of vacancies or promotions, strictly prohibits them from applying except through their immediate superior officers. (See Staff Rule Book, Rule 28.)

The object of this regulation is to maintain the principle that promotion should be made solely with a view to the efficiency of the service, and on an impartial comparison of the qualifications of the candidates. In fairness to all the candidates it is not considered just that any one of them should be permitted to secure influential outside support which is not available for his competitors.

Any candidate who infringes this regulation renders himself liable to disqualification for appointment, and, in certain circumstances, to severer penalties.

POST OFFICE ROLL OF HONOUR.

The King has awarded the Victoria Cross to Sergt. A. Gill late of the King's Royal Rifle Corps, for the act of distinguished bravery explained below. In civil life Mr. Gill was a Postman at Birmingham. The report in the London Gazette is as follows:—

"For most conspicuous bravery. The enemy made a very strong counter-attack on the right flank of the battalion, and rushed the bombing post after killing all the company bombers.

"Serjeant Gill at once rallied the remnants of his platoon, none of whom were skilled bombers, and reorganised his defences, a most difficult and dangerous task, the trench being very shallow and much damaged. Soon afterwards the enemy nearly surrounded his men by creeping up through the thick undergrowth, and commenced sniping at about twenty yards range. Although it was almost certain death, Serjeant Gill stood boldly up in order to direct the fire of his men. He was killed almost at once, but not before he had shown his men where the enemy were, and thus enabled them to hold up their advance.

"By his supreme devotion to duty and self-sacrifice he saved a very dangerous situation."

The Postmaster General has learnt with great pleasure that the following Officers of the Post Office, now on active service, have been honoured by mention in the Commander-in-Chief's despatches or by other mark of distinction. He tenders them his congratulations on the signal honour they have earned.

Postmasters and other Supervising Officers should report to the Secretary without delay any information that may reach them of the names of Post Office Servants who are killed in action, who have died of wounds or disease, who are mentioned in despatches, or who receive special promotion in the Army or Navy. In reporting cases of death the name and address of the person to whom the Postmaster General might properly send a Letter of Condolence should, if possible, be stated, together with the deceased officer's name in full and the date when his employment in the Post Office first began.

The attention of Postmasters, &c., is directed to Rule 624 of the Rules for Head Post Offices, Part 1, with special reference to the cases of officers who lose their lives in the War. If it is found that the instruction in question has been overlooked in any instance, the matter should receive immediate attention.

Gallant Conduct.

THE POSTMASTER GENERAL has heard with much pleasure that the Royal Humane Society have awarded their Honorary Certificate on vellum to Mr. J. T. W. Hedge, Postman at Westgate-on-Sea, Margate, for saving a soldier from drowning on the 17th of July last.

Postmasters and other Supervising Officers should report to the Secretary without delay any information that may reach them of the names of Post Office Servants who are killed in action, who have died of wounds or disease, who are mentioned in despatches, or who receive special promotion in the Army or Navy. In reporting cases of death the name and address of the person to whom the Postmaster General might properly send a Letter of Condolence should, if possible, be stated, together with the deceased officer's name in full and the date when his employment in the Post Office first began.

The attention of Postmasters, &c., is directed to Rule 624 of the Rules for Head Post Offices, Part I., with special reference to the cases of officers who lose their lives in the War. If it is found that the instruction in question has been overlooked in any instance, the matter should receive immediate attention.

Temporary Indoor Officers.

Temporary Male and Female Indoor Officers are required in the South Western District for Postal and Telegraph work.

Third class personal locomotion expenses are allowed.

Full particulars can be obtained from the Surveyor, Portsmouth. Candidates should apply through the usual official channels.

POST OFFICE ROLL OF HONOUR.

The Postmaster General has great pleasure in announcing that the King has awarded the Victoria Cross to Temporary Second Lieutenant Henry Kelly, of the Duke of Wellington's (West Riding Regiment) for the act of distinguished bravery explained below. In civil life Mr. Kelly is a Sorting Clerk and Telegraphist at Manchester. The report in the London Gazette is as follows:—

"For most conspicuous bravery in attack.

"He twice rallied his Company under the heaviest fire, and finally led the only three available men into the enemy trench, and there remained bombing until two of them had become casualties, and enemy reinforcements had arrived.

"He then carried his Company Sergeant-Major, who had been wounded, back to our trenches, a distance of 70 yards, and subsequently three other soldiers.

"He set a fine example of gallantry and endurance."

The Postmaster General has learnt with great pleasure that the following Officers of the Post Office, now on active service, have been honoured by mention in the Commander-in-Chief's despatches or by other mark of distinction. He tenders them his congratulations on the signal honour they have earned.

POST OFFICE CIRCULAR.

TUESDAY, 19 DECEMBER, 1916.

No. 2328.

During my tenure of Office as His Majesty's Postmaster General I have been greatly struck by the patriotic work performed by all grades of the Post Office Service. I refer not only to those who have joined the Colours, but to those men and women at home who have done all in their power in the National interest to carry on satisfactorily the depleted service.

In saying good-bye, I desire to thank warmly the whole staff for the willing assistance they have so generously rendered to the State during this period of difficulty and ever increasing strain.

To the relatives and friends of those 1,466 gallant Post Office servants who, during the period of my Postmastership, have laid down their lives for a great and noble cause, I wish to express my heartfelt sympathy.

We have passed and are passing through very difficult times, and owing to the War all schemes of development and reform in the work of the Post Office have had to be postponed; but may I express a hope that, whenever peace is again established, the valuable services rendered by the Post Office to the public and also the welfare and happiness of those in its employment may be extended.

It is with real regret that I leave the Department, as I have not only become keenly interested in its work, but I have made many friends with whom it has been a pleasure and privilege to be associated, and whose loyalty and help I shall ever remember with gratitude.

JOSEPH A. PEASE.

Postmasters and other Supervising Officers should report to the Secretary without delay any information that may reach them of the names of Post Office Servants who are killed in action, who have died of wounds or disease, who are mentioned in despatches, or who receive special promotion in the Army or Navy. In reporting cases of death the name and address of the person to whom the Postmaster General might properly send a Letter of Condolence should, if possible, be stated, together with the deceased officer's name in full and the date when his employment in the Post Office first began.

The attention of Postmasters, &c., is directed to Rule 624 of the Rules for Head Post Offices, Part I., with special reference to the cases of officers who lose their lives in the War. If it is found that the instruction in question has been overlooked in any instance, the matter should receive immediate attention.

APPOINTMENTS.

Mr. A. H. Norway will resume his duties in the General Post Office, London, on January 1st, on the expiration of his period of appointment as Secretary to the Post Office in Ireland. The Postmaster General has appointed Mr. J. MacMahon to succeed him in Dublin.

Mr. J. H. Doherty, Overseer, Manchester, to be Postmaster of Louth.

VACANCY.

SALARIED SUB-POSTMASTERSHIP OF WHITLEY BAY, NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE.—Salary, £240 a year.

The salary named constitutes the entire remuneration for all branches of duty.

Candidates may offer themselves, through their superior officers, not later than the 2nd proximo.

The special attention of candidates is called to the rule which, in the case of vacancies or promotions, strictly prohibits them from applying except through their immediate superior officers. (See Staff Rules, Rule 28.)

The object of this regulation is to maintain the principle that promotion should be made solely with a view to the efficiency of the service, and on an impartial comparison of the qualifications of the candidates. In fairness to all the candidates it is not considered just that any one of them should be permitted to secure influential outside support which is not available for his competitors.

Any candidate who infringes this regulation renders himself liable to disqualification for appointment, and, in certain circumstances, to severer penalties.

Temporary Indoor Officers.

Temporary Male and Female Indoor Officers are required in the South Western District for Postal and Telegraph work.

Third class personal locomotion expenses are allowed.

Full particulars can be obtained from the Surveyor, Portsmouth. Candidates should apply through the usual official channels.

Males eligible for military service will not be accepted.

WAR LOAN.

The forthcoming War Loan will be issued through the Post Office as well as the Bank of England. Supplies of the Prospectuses, Forms of Application, &c., together with full instructions will be forwarded to all Money Order Offices in the course of the week. Subscriptions to the Loan should not be accepted prior to Friday, the 12th instant, and copies of the Prospectuses, Forms of Applications, &c., should not be issued to the Public until that day. In no circumstances should information as regards the terms of the Loan be disclosed prior to the day of issue but Postmasters, &c., should, where possible, take steps in advance to familiarise the Counter Staff with the various forms and the instructions as regards their issue. In particular care should be taken that there is no confusion between the Prospectus, Forms, &c., referring to the Bank of England Issue and those referring to the Post Office Issue.

If a supply of Prospectuses, Forms of Application, &c., has not reached any Office by the morning of Friday, the 12th instant, the fact should be reported by telegraph to the Controller, Post Office Savings Bank, West Kensington, London, W. It is imperative that an adequate supply of forms should be maintained so long as the Loan remains open and, if the stock runs low, the Controller, Post Office Savings Bank, should be communicated with by post, if time permits, but if need be by telegraph.

Forbes, Auxiliary Postman, Insch, Huntley, appeared in the Roll of Honour published in the Post Office Circulars of 2nd January, 1917, and 23rd January, 1917, respectively. The Postmaster General is glad to learn that these officers are still alive.

Postmasters and other Supervising Officers should report to the Secretary without delay any information that may reach them of the names of Post Office Servants who are killed in action, who have died of wounds or disease, who are mentioned in despatches, or who receive special promotion in the Army or Navy. In reporting cases of death the name and address of the person to whom the Postmaster General might properly send a Letter of Condolence should, if possible, be stated, together with the deceased officer's name in full and the date when his employment in the Post Office first began.

The attention of Postmasters, &c., is directed to Rule 624 of the Rules for Head Post Offices, Part I., with special reference to the cases of officers who lose their lives in the War. If it is found that the instruction in question has been overlooked in any instance, the matter should receive immediate attention.

POST OFFICE RIFLES.

The Officer Commanding the 8th Battalion London Regiment, Post Office Rifles, wishes it to be known that the Regiment is still open for recruits. Post Office men, who are about to join the colours, can secure enlistment by applying direct to the Regimental Depot, Bunhill Row, E.C., prior to the receipt of a calling up notice from the Recruiting Authorities. Applications cannot be received from men to whom calling up notices have already been sent by the Recruiting Authorities.

NATIONAL SERVICE.

Post Office servants are at liberty to enrol themselves in response to the invitation issued by the Director of National Service for volunteers. It is unlikely that it will be possible to release many of the permanent full time staff for work of national importance outside the Post Office; but every effort will be made to release temporary and part-time officers who may desire to undertake such work, and are qualified for it.

Any enrolled Post Office servant receiving a summons from the National Service Department should at once report the fact to his superior officer, and should not leave his official duties till the sanction of the Post Office has been obtained. He should inform the authority from whom his summons is received that he is communicating with his official superior.

Postmaster of Bolton.—Salary, £555 a year.
" " East Grinstead.—Salary, £315 a year.
Salaried Sub-Postmaster of Musselburgh, Edinburgh.—Salary, £175 a year.

The salary named in each case constitutes the entire remuneration for all branches of duty.
Candidates may offer themselves, through their superior officers, not later than the 19th of March.
The special attention of candidates is called to the rule which, in the case of vacancies or promotions, strictly prohibits them from applying except through their immediate superior officers. (See Staff Rules, Rule 28.)
The object of this regulation is to maintain the principle that promotion should be made solely with a view to the efficiency of the service, and on an impartial comparison of the qualifications of the candidates. In fairness to all the candidates it is not considered just that any one of them should be permitted to secure influential outside support which is not available for his competitors.
Any candidate who infringes this regulation renders himself liable to disqualification for appointment, and, in certain circumstances, to severer penalties.

Temporary Indoor Officers.

Temporary Male and Female Indoor Officers are required in the South Western District for Postal and Telegraph work.
Males eligible for military service will not be accepted.

Candidates should apply through the usual official channels.

Ministry of Munitions of War.—Form of Certificate for obtaining priority for work (Form 977).

A supply of the above-mentioned form has been distributed to all Head Offices, Branch Offices and Salaried Sub-Offices. It is intended that the forms shall also be obtainable by the public on requisition at any Money Order Office and on receipt of an application for the form at any such Office which does not normally stock the forms the requisite number should be obtained as expeditiously as possible from the Head Office of the district.
Care should be taken that supplies of the form are continuously available at all Head Offices, Branch Offices and Salaried Sub-Offices. Further supplies can be obtained by Head Postmasters by requisition on form Postmasters No. 1056. The form should be requisitioned as "Form 977."
The forms are merely to be handed to the public on application and it will not be necessary for counter officers to furnish any information in reply to enquiries in connexion therewith.

To Postmasters and Sub-Postmasters in England, Wales and Scotland.

NATIONAL SERVICE.

Forms to be kept in stock at all Post Offices.

Attention is directed to the notice on this subject on page 55 of the Post Office Circular of 6th February, 1917.
Complaints have been received that the stock of forms has been allowed to run out at a number of offices. Postmasters and Sub-Postmasters are requested to pay particular attention to these forms and to see that a proper supply is available for distribution to applicants without delay.

BANK HOLIDAY IN IRELAND, 17th MARCH, 1917.

Postmasters and other Supervising Officers should report to the Secretary without delay any information that may reach them of the names of Post Office Servants who are killed in action, who have died of wounds or disease, who are mentioned in despatches, or who receive special promotion in the Army or Navy. In reporting cases of death the name and address of the person to whom the Postmaster General might properly send a Letter of Condolence should, if possible, be stated, together with the deceased officer's name in full and the date when his employment in the Post Office first began.

The attention of Postmasters, &c., is directed to Rule 624 of the Rules for Head Post Offices, Part I., with special reference to the cases of officers who lose their lives in the War. If it is found that the instruction in question has been overlooked in any instance, the matter should receive immediate attention.

Postmasters and other Supervising Officers should report to the Secretary without delay any information that may reach them of the names of Post Office Servants who are killed in action, who have died of wounds or disease, who are mentioned in despatches, or who receive special promotion in the Army or Navy. In reporting death the name and address of the person to whom the Postmaster General might properly send a Letter of Condolence should, if possible, be stated, together with the deceased officer's name in full and the date when his employment in the Post Office first began.

The attention of Postmasters, &c., is directed to Rule 624 of the Rules for Head Post Offices, Part I., with special reference to the cases of officers who lose their lives in the War. If it is found that the instruction in question has been overlooked in any instance, the matter should receive immediate attention.

APPOINTMENTS.

Mr. F. P. Beagley, Postmaster of Dereham, to be Postmaster of Sherborne.

Mr. W. T. Bickerton, Sorting Clerk and Telegraphist, Tredegar, to be Salaried Sub-Postmaster of Treorchy, Porth.

The appointment of Mr. Hughes to be Salaried Sub-Postmaster of Treorchy has been cancelled at his own request.

VACANCY.

POSTMASTER OF DEREHAM.—Salary, £285 a year.

The incoming Postmaster of Dereham will be required to occupy an official residence for which a rent of £28 a year will be charged. The accommodation comprises three sitting rooms, four bedrooms, kitchen, bathroom, and boxroom. The Postmaster will be required to attend to telephone calls when the staff is not on duty, and for this attendance he will be paid at the usual rates.

With this exception the salary named constitutes the entire remuneration for all branches of duty.

Candidates may offer themselves, through their superior officers, not later than the 18th of June.

The special attention of candidates is called to the rule which, in the case of vacancies or promotions, strictly prohibits them from applying except through their immediate superior officers. (See Staff Rules, Rule 23.)

The object of this regulation is to maintain the principle that promotion should be made solely with a view to the efficiency of the service, and on an impartial comparison of the qualifications of the candidates. In fairness to all the candidates it is not considered just that any one of them should be permitted to secure influential outside support which is not available for his competitors.

Any candidate who infringes this regulation renders himself liable to disqualification for appointment, and, in certain circumstances, to severer penalties.

Worsley, A. J. E.	Postman	L.P.S., W. District	Royal Fleet Reserve.
Young, J.	Postman	Wishaw	Royal Scots Fusiliers.

Postmasters and other Supervising Officers should report to the Secretary without delay any information that may reach them of the names of Post Office Servants who are killed in action, who have died of wounds or disease, who are mentioned in despatches, or who receive special promotion in the Army or Navy. In reporting cases of death the name and address of the person to whom the Postmaster General might properly send a Letter of Condolence should, if possible, be stated, together with the deceased officer's name in full and the date when his employment in the Post Office first began.

The attention of Postmasters, &c., is directed to Rule 624 of the Rules for Head Post Offices, Part I., with special reference to the cases of officers who lose their lives in the War. If it is found that the instruction in question has been overlooked in any instance, the matter should receive immediate attention.

APPOINTMENTS.

Mr. J. Lee, Deputy Chief Inspector of Telegraph and Telephone Traffic, to be Postmaster of Belfast.

Mr. F. F. Burn, Postmaster of Ashby-de-la-Zouch, to be Postmaster of Northallerton.

Temporary Indoor Officers.

Temporary Male and Female Indoor Officers are required in the South Western District for Postal and Telegraph work. Candidates must be capable of taking full charge of a Counter duty, or a busy Sounder Circuit.

Males eligible for military service will not be accepted.

Experienced Female Temporary Telegraphists are required in the Central Telegraph Office.

Third class personal locomotion expenses are allowed.

Full particulars can be obtained from the Surveyor, Portsmouth, or the Controller, Central Telegraph Office, London, E.C. 1, as the case may be.

Candidates should apply through the usual official channels.

Wearing of Private Badges—Staff Rule 14.

The Postmaster General has had under consideration the rule forbidding the wearing of private badges on official uniforms or whilst officers are on duty, whether in uniform or not; and he has decided that the prohibition should not in future apply to the badge of the Trade Union to which an officer belongs.

WOMEN TELEGRAPHISTS FOR FRANCE.

More women telegraphists are required for service in France, and applications from volunteers are invited. Preference is given to officers who are qualified either in wheatstone punching or in typing; but there are a certain number of vacancies for telegraphists with morse qualifications only. The limits of age are 21 to 30. Applications should be made through the Postmaster to the Surveyor.

The conditions of service are as follows:—

1. The rate of pay is 34s. a week. The weekly hours of duty are 48, including intervals for meals. For work in excess of these hours the extra duty rate payable is 10d. an hour on week-days. For all Sunday work the rate payable is 1s. an hour. Work will probably have to be regularly done on alternate Sundays. The Post Office rules regarding night duty do not apply.

2. Board and lodging, which includes all meals, is provided by the Military Authorities, and a deduction of 14s. a week is made from the pay to cover this.

3. No Post Office pay is allowed; but the period of absence will count for pension and marriage gratuity and for incremental purposes: i.e., the officer will return to the Post Office at the pay she would have reached if she had remained at home. The officer's place will be kept open for her, and her seniority will be retained.

4. Uniform is worn, and an allowance of £4 is made for this purpose, with a further grant of £1 at the end of 6 months. The articles of uniform are supplied by the Military Authorities on arrival in London.

5. A fortnight's leave will be granted during each year's service, subject to the exigencies of the service.

Razors for the Troops.

The Postmaster General has received a letter from the Lord Mayor of London conveying his thanks to the officers of the Post Office for their response to the appeal for disused razors, which has resulted in more than 100,000 razors being collected and forwarded to the Master Cutler to be put into good condition for the use of the soldiers at the front. The Postmaster General congratulates the Staff on the result of their efforts in the matter.

Postmasters and other Supervising Officers should report to the Secretary without delay any information that may reach them of the names of Post Office Servants who are killed in action, who have died of wounds or disease, who are mentioned in despatches, or who receive special promotion in the Army or Navy. In reporting cases of death the name and address of the person to whom the Postmaster General might properly send a Letter of Condolence should, if possible, be stated, together with the deceased officer's name in full and the date when his employment in the Post Office first began.

The attention of Postmasters, &c., is directed to Rule 624 of the Rules for Head Post Offices, Part I., with special reference to the cases of officers who lose their lives in the War. If it is found that the instruction in question has been overlooked in any instance, the matter should receive special attention.

Enlistment of Post Office Servants in Ireland.

The Postmaster General has been asked to make a special appeal to Post Office Servants in Ireland to volunteer for military service. Some 2,000 men from the Irish Post Office are serving with the Colours, but in recent months very few have volunteered. The services of every fit man are needed more urgently than ever in the Army and the Postmaster General appeals to every man of military age in the Post Office in Ireland to follow the example of his colleagues who have enlisted.

Facilities are offered to Irishmen by the War Office to enlist in Irish regiments. In addition, Post Office men who are passed as fit for general military service (category A) are eligible for enlistment in the Post Office Rifles, where they will be associated with other Post Office servants.

Postmasters and other Controlling Officers should draw the attention of men of military age under their control to this notice.

INJURY BY AIR RAIDS.

The Postmaster General is glad to be able to make a somewhat fuller statement on the subject of Post Office servants injured as a result of air raids than was possible in the Post Office Circular of the 31st of July.

(a) If any Post Office servant who is a "workman" within the meaning of the Workmen's Compensation Act, 1906 (i.e., generally speaking, all Manual Workers, and persons other than Manual Workers receiving on the average £250 a year or less), is killed or injured on Post Office premises in the course of his employment as the result of enemy air raids, liability will be accepted under the Workmen's Compensation Act, 1906, except in cases of unnecessary exposure:

(b) If any Post Office servant who is not a "workman" within the meaning of the Workmen's Compensation Act, 1906, is killed or injured in similar circumstances, a grant will be made under the Injury Warrants issued under Section 1 of the Superannuation Act, 1887:

(c) The arrangements announced in the foregoing paragraphs will apply also to cases where an officer is specially summoned for duty at a particular place and is killed or injured whilst proceeding with due despatch to or from that place:

(d) Other cases of death or injury to Post Office servants as a result of air raids in the course of their duty or whilst proceeding to or from duty will be considered on their merits. The Government have given a pledge to make an ex gratia award of compensation from public funds on the general principles of the Workmen's Compensation Act in cases where the victims of air raids or their dependents are otherwise unprovided for. The Local Government Board will take steps to give effect to this pledge in any cases which may arise.

APPOINTMENTS.

Mr. J. J. White, Postmaster of Penzance, to be Postmaster of Chesterfield.
Mr. G. Ferguson, Postmaster of Armagh, to be Postmaster of Sligo.

VACANCIES.

SALARIED SUB-POSTMISTRESS OF CROWN STREET T.S.O., GLASGOW.—Salary, £110 a year.
SALARIED SUB-POSTMASTER OF JOHNSTONE S.O., PAISLEY.—Salary, £195 a year.
The salary named in each case constitutes the entire remuneration for all branches of duty.
Candidates may offer themselves, through their superior officers, not later than the 3rd of September.
The special attention of candidates is called to the rule which, in the case of vacancies or promotions, strictly prohibits them from applying except through their immediate superior officers. (See Staff Rules, Rule 28.)
The object of this regulation is to maintain the principle that promotion should be made solely with a view to the efficiency of the service, and on an impartial comparison of the qualifications of the candidates. In fairness to all the candidates it is not considered just that any one of them should be permitted to secure influential outside support which is not available for his competitors.
Any candidate who infringes this regulation renders himself liable to disqualification for appointment, and, in certain circumstances, to severer penalties.

Temporary Indoor Officers.

Temporary Male and Female Indoor Officers are required in the South Western District for Postal and Telegraph work. Candidates must be capable of taking full charge of a Counter duty, or a busy Sounder Circuit.
Males eligible for military service will not be accepted.
Experienced Female Temporary Telegraphists are required in the Central Telegraph Office.
Third class personal locomotion expenses are allowed.
Full particulars can be obtained from the Surveyor, Portsmouth, or the Controller, Central Telegraph Office, London, E.C. 1, as the case may be.
Candidates should apply through the usual official channels.

Postmasters and other Supervising Officers should report to the Secretary without delay any information that may reach them of the names of Post Office Servants who are killed in action, who have died of wounds or disease, who are mentioned in despatches, or who receive special promotion in the Army or Navy. In reporting cases of death the name and address of the person to whom the Postmaster General might properly send a Letter of Condolence should, if possible, be stated, together with the deceased officer's name in full and the date when his employment in the Post Office first began.

The attention of Postmasters, &c., is directed to Rule 624 of the Rules for Head Post Offices, Part I., with special reference to the cases of officers who lose their lives in the War. If it is found that the instruction in question has been overlooked in any instance, the matter should receive immediate attention.

INJURY BY AIR RAIDS.

The Postmaster General is authorized to state that the decisions announced in paragraphs (a) and (b) of the Notice in the Post Office Circular of the 14th August relating to injury by Air Raids will apply also to the cases of all Post Office servants whose ordinary employment takes them habitually away from Post Office premises (e.g., Postmen, Engineering Workmen, Officers in Railway Sorting Carriages and Telegraph Messengers) and who may be killed or injured whilst on duty, whether on Post Office premises or not, provided that they were not exposing themselves to unnecessary risk when killed or injured.

APPOINTMENTS.

Mr. J. A. Saunders, Postmaster of Rochester, to be Postmaster of Canterbury.

Miss L. C. Mooney, Sorting Clerk and Telegraphist, Tunbridge Wells, to be Salaried Sub-Postmistress of Dyke Road T.S.O., Brighton.

Temporary Indoor Officers.

Temporary Male and Female Indoor Officers are required in the South Western District for Postal and Telegraph work. Candidates must be capable of taking full charge of a Counter duty, or a busy Sounder Circuit.

Males eligible for military service will not be accepted.

Experienced Female Temporary Telegraphists are required in the Central Telegraph Office.

Third class personal locomotion expenses are allowed.

Full particulars can be obtained from the Surveyor, Portsmouth, or the Controller, Central Telegraph Office, London, E.C. 1, as the case may be.

Candidates should apply through the usual official channels.

ALLOWANCE FORMS.

Change of Office of Payment: Form Postmasters No. 80.

With reference to Rule 20 (a) relating to Allowance Forms, it has been brought under notice that a large number of Forms Pmrs. No. 80 are received in the War Office direct from the Payees. Applicants for Form No. 80 should be reminded that the Form when filled up must be handed in at the Post Office at which payment is made or is to be made in future, and must not be sent by post either to a Post Office or to the War Office or to any of the addresses shown on the back of the Form.

Attention is also again urgently called to Rule 20 (e). When Form No. 80 is received with the book of Allowance Forms at the new office of payment the acknowledgment at the foot must be sent to the Post Office from which the book was received, and the upper part of the form must be forwarded when completed to the Issuing Authority shown on the cover of the book. The address of the Issuing Authority must be correctly filled in on the back of the Form and the alternative addresses struck out, before the form is posted. The instructions on this point are frequently overlooked. This causes much trouble to Issuing Authorities and may delay the issue of new books when due.

Postmasters and other Supervising Officers should report to the Secretary without delay any information that may reach them of the names of Post Office Servants who are killed in action, who have died of wounds or disease, who are mentioned in despatches, or who receive special promotion in the Army or Navy. In reporting cases of death the name and address of the person to whom the Postmaster General might properly send a Letter of Condolence should, if possible, be stated, together with the deceased officer's name in full and the date when his employment in the Post Office first began.

The attention of Postmasters, &c., is directed to Rule 624 of the Rules for Head Post Offices, Part I., with special reference to the cases of officers who lose their lives in the War. If it is found that the instruction in question has been overlooked in any instance, the matter should receive immediate attention.

Postmasters and other Supervising Officers should report to the Secretary without delay any information that may reach them of the names of Post Office Servants who are killed in action, who have died of wounds or disease, who are mentioned in despatches, or who receive special promotion in the Army or Navy. In reporting cases of death the name and address of the person to whom the Postmaster General might properly send a Letter of Condolence should, if possible, be stated, together with the deceased officer's name in full and the date when his employment in the Post Office first began.

The attention of Postmasters, &c., is directed to Rule 624 of the Rules for Head Post Offices, Part I., with special reference to the cases of officers who lose their lives in the War. If it is found that the instruction in question has been overlooked in any instance, the matter should receive immediate attention.

Notice of Decease.—Form Postmasters No. 24.

When the death is reported of an officer on Active Service, in addition to the particulars for which provision is made on Form 24, it should also be stated upon what date notification of death was received and up to what date balance of civil pay has been allowed.

VACANCY.

POSTMASTER OF BLYTH.—Salary, £287 a year.
" " ALNWICK.—Salary, £283 a year.

The salary named, which includes the appropriate allowance for Insurance and Telephone work, constitutes in each case the entire remuneration for all branches of duty.

Candidates may offer themselves, through their superior officers, not later than the 5th of November.

The special attention of candidates is called to the rule which, in the case of vacancies or promotions, strictly prohibits them from applying except through their immediate superior officers. (See Staff Rules, Rule 28.)

The object of this regulation is to maintain the principle that promotion should be made solely with a view to the efficiency of the service, and on an impartial comparison of the qualifications of the candidates. In fairness to all the candidates it is not considered just that any one of them should be permitted to secure influential outside support which is not available for his competitors.

Any candidate who infringes this regulation renders himself liable to disqualification for appointment, and, in certain circumstances, to severer penalties.

POST OFFICE ROLL OF HONOUR.

The King has awarded the Victoria Cross to Serjeant A. J. Knight, of the Post Office Rifles, for the acts of distinguished bravery explained below. In civil life Mr. Knight is a Clerical Assistant in the North Midland Engineering Department. The report in the London Gazette is as follows:—

"For most conspicuous bravery and devotion to duty during the operations against the enemy positions.

"Serjeant Knight did extraordinary good work, and showed exceptional bravery and initiative when his platoon was attacking an enemy strong point, and came under very heavy fire from an enemy machine gun. He rushed through our own barrage, bayonetted the enemy gunner, and captured the position single-handed.

"Later twelve of the enemy, with a machine gun, were encountered in a shell-hole. He again rushed forward by himself, bayonetted two and shot a third and caused the remainder to scatter.

"Subsequently during the attack on a fortified farm, when entangled up to his waist in mud, and seeing a number of the enemy firing on our troops, he immediately opened fire on them without waiting to extricate himself from the mud, killing six of the enemy.

"Again noticing the company on his right flank being held up in their attack on another farm, Serjeant Knight collected some men and took up a position on the flank of this farm from where he brought a heavy fire to bear on the farm, as a result of which the farm was captured.

"All the platoon officers of the company had become casualties before the first objective was reached, and this gallant N.C.O. took command of all the men of his own platoon and of the platoons without officers. His energy in consolidating and reorganising was untiring.

"His several single-handed actions showed exceptional bravery, and saved a great number of casualties in the Company. They were performed under heavy machine gun and rifle fire, and without regard to personal risk, and were the direct cause of the objectives being captured."

The Postmaster General has learnt with great pleasure that the following Officers of the Post Office, now on active service, have been honoured by mention in the Commander-in-Chief's despatches or by other mark of distinction. He tenders them his congratulations on the signal honour they have earned.

With this exception, the salary named, which includes the appropriate allowance for Insurance and Telephone work, constitutes in each case the entire remuneration for all branches of duty.

Candidates may offer themselves, through their superior officers, not later than the 3rd of December.

The special attention of candidates is called to the rule which, in the case of vacancies or promotions, strictly prohibits them from applying except through their immediate superior officers. (See Staff Rules, Rule 28.)

The object of this regulation is to maintain the principle that promotion should be made solely with a view to the efficiency of the service, and on an impartial comparison of the qualifications of the candidates. In fairness to all the candidates it is not considered just that any one of them should be permitted to secure influential outside support which is not available for his competitors.

Any candidate who infringes this regulation renders himself liable to disqualification for appointment, and, in certain circumstances, to severer penalties.

Postmasters and other Supervising Officers should report to the Secretary without delay any information that may reach them of the names of Post Office Servants who are killed in action, who have died of wounds or disease, who are mentioned in despatches, or who receive special promotion in the Army or Navy. In reporting cases of death the name and address of the person to whom the Postmaster General might properly send a Letter of Condolence should, if possible, be stated, together with the deceased officer's name in full and the date when his employment in the Post Office first began.

The attention of Postmasters, &c., is directed to Rule 624 of the Rules for Head Post Offices, Part I., with special reference to the cases of officers who lose their lives in the War. If it is found that the instruction in question has been overlooked in any instance, the matter should receive immediate attention.

APPOINTMENT.

Mr. H. W. Philpot, Salaried Sub-Postmaster, Mildenhall S.O., Ely, to be Salaried Sub-Postmaster of Belvedere S.O., Dartford.

ROYAL ENGINEERS (SIGNAL SERVICE).

Proposed formation of Cadet Companies in London.

With reference to the notice which appeared in the Post Office Circular of the 25th December on the above subject, it should be stated that the training would be given during the evening and that the boys would thus be able to follow their ordinary occupations during the day.

Attendance for training in telegraphy would be expected on two evenings each week.

Attendance for military training would also be expected on two evenings each week until a boy was efficient, when this attendance might be modified.

It is hoped that it will be possible to arrange for the joint training to be given on the same evenings.

Boy messengers, who are educationally qualified, will be eligible for enrolment.

The question of forming Cadet Companies in the provinces will be considered at a later date.

WOMEN'S ARMY AUXILIARY CORPS.

Volunteers for service as Telegraphists and Telephonists.

Further volunteers are required for service with the W.A.A.C. in France as Telegraphists and Telephonists, and applications are invited from women in the Post Office service willing to serve in these capacities. The conditions of service and rates of pay are the same as stated in the Post Office Circular of the 11th September last, viz.:—

(1) Inclusive wages of 42s. a week for Telegraphists and 35s. a week for Telephonists will be paid to cover all work, whether on week-days or on Sundays.

(2) Board and lodging and washing will be provided by the Military Authorities and a deduction of 14s. a week will be made from the pay to cover this.

(3) No Post Office pay will be allowed, but the period of absence will count for pension and marriage gratuity and for incremental purposes, and the officer will return to the Post Office at the pay she would have received if she had remained at home. The officer's place will be kept open for her, and her seniority will be retained.

APPOINTMENTS.

Mr. W. Parker, Postmaster of Gorey, to be Postmaster of Thurles.

Mr. W. Bearne, Overseer, Teignmouth, to be Salaried Sub-Postmaster of Bishop's Waltham S.O., Southampton.

Mr. J. Scott, Salaried Sub-Postmaster of Musselburgh S.O., Edinburgh, to be Salaried Sub-Postmaster of Cambuslang S.O., Glasgow.

VACANCIES.

POSTMASTER OF MOLD.—Salary, £231 a year.

SALARIED SUB-POSTMASTER OF SIDCUP S.O., DARTFORD.—Salary, £201 a year.

" " " DROITWICH S.O., WORCESTER.—Salary, £186 a year.

" " " BUILTH WELLS S.O., BRECON.—Salary, £132 a year.

" " " WEEDON S.O., DAVENTRY.—Salary, £115 a year.

The salary named in each case includes the appropriate allowance for Insurance and Telephone work.

It is necessary that the incoming Postmaster of Mold should have a knowledge of Welsh. He will be required to occupy the official residence, for which he will be charged the usual rent at the rate of 14 per cent. of his salary. The accommodation comprises two reception rooms, four bedrooms, kitchen, scullery, bathroom and W.C., all on the first floor. There is also a small flat roof, but no garden.

The incoming Salaried Sub-Postmaster of Sidcup will be required to occupy the official residence for which he will be charged an inclusive rent of £24 a year. The accommodation comprises two sitting rooms, two bedrooms, kitchen, bathroom and offices.

Difficulty is likely to be experienced by a married man in obtaining residential accommodation at Weedon, and the incoming Sub-Postmaster should be prepared, if necessary, to take furnished apartments until a suitable house is available.

Candidates may offer themselves, through their superior officers, not later than the 14th of January.

The special attention of candidates is called to the rule which, in the case of vacancies or promotions, strictly prohibits them from applying except through their immediate superior officers. (See Staff Rules, Rule 28.)

The object of this regulation is to maintain the principle that promotion should be made solely with a view to the efficiency of the service, and on an impartial comparison of the qualifications of the candidates. In fairness to all the candidates it is not considered just that any one of them should be permitted to secure influential outside support which is not available for his competitors.

Any candidate who infringes this regulation renders himself liable to disqualification for appointment, and, in certain circumstances, to severer penalties.

" " " METHIL S.O., KIRKCALDY.—Salary, £141 a year.

The salary named in each case includes the appropriate allowance for Insurance and Telephone work.

The incoming Salaried Sub-Postmaster of Methil may possibly be required to occupy an official residence on the usual conditions, in which case the accommodation will probably comprise one sitting room, three bedrooms, kitchen, scullery, bathroom and the usual offices.

Candidates may offer themselves, through their superior officers, not later than the 4th of February.

The object of this regulation is to maintain the principle that promotion should be made solely with a view to the efficiency of the service, and on an impartial comparison of the qualifications of the candidates. In fairness to all the candidates it is not considered just that any one of them should be permitted to secure influential outside support which is not available for his competitors.

Any candidate who infringes this regulation renders himself liable to disqualification for appointment, and, in certain circumstances, to severer penalties.

Postmasters and other Supervising Officers should report to the Secretary without delay any information that may reach them of the names of Post Office Servants who are killed in action, who have died of wounds or disease, who are mentioned in despatches, or who receive special promotion in the Army or Navy. In reporting cases of death the name and address of the person to whom the Postmaster General might properly send a Letter of Condolence should, if possible, be stated, together with the deceased officer's name in full and the date when his employment in the Post Office first began.

The attention of Postmasters, &c., is directed to Rule 624 of the Rules for Head Post Offices, Part I., with special reference to the cases of officers who lose their lives in the War. If it is found that the instruction in question has been overlooked in any instance, the matter should receive immediate attention.

APPOINTMENT.

Miss M. A. Williams, Salaried Sub-Postmistress of Coleford S.O., Lydney, to be Salaried Sub-Postmistress of Builth Wells S.O., Brecon.

VACANCY.

SALARIED SUB-POSTMASTER OF BOROUGHMUIRHEAD T.S.O., EDINBURGH.—Salary, £117 (including the appropriate allowance for Insurance and Telephone work).

Candidates may offer themselves, through their superior officers, not later than the 25th of February.

The special attention of candidates is called to the rule which, in the case of vacancies or promotions, strictly prohibits them from applying except through their immediate superior officers. (See Staff Rules, Rule 28.)

The object of this regulation is to maintain the principle that promotion should be made solely with a view to the efficiency of the service, and on an impartial comparison of the qualifications of the candidates. In fairness to all the candidates it is not considered just that any one of them should be permitted to secure influential outside support which is not available for his competitors.

Any candidate who infringes this regulation renders himself liable to disqualification for appointment, and, in certain circumstances, to severer penalties.

WAR BONUS—TEMPORARY CLERICAL STAFF.

1. The Conciliation and Arbitration Board for Government Employees, under an Award dated 18th February, 1918, have awarded the following additional rates of war bonus to Temporary Female Writing Assistants and Temporary Female Clerical Assistants; and the Postmaster General has received the authority of the Lords Commissioners of the Treasury for extending the Award to all temporary clerical employees, male and female, who were not granted the additional war bonus announced on page 512 of the Post Office Circular of the 21st December, 1917.

2. The following rates of War Bonus, which should be paid in addition to the present total remuneration (wages plus War Bonus) will accordingly be granted to the temporary employees referred to above as from the 17th December, 1917.

(a) Full-time employees 18 years of age and upwards, 6s. a week to men and 4s. a week to women.

(b) Full-time employees below 18 years of age, 2s. 6d. a week to males and females alike.

3. The bonus will not be taken into account in the calculation of Sunday duty and extra duty rates.

4. The additional bonus is to be recognized as due to and dependent on the existence of the abnormal conditions now prevailing owing to the war.

Payment of the increased bonus warranted under the above announcement should, if at all possible, commence with the next payment of wages. The first payment should include arrears due from 17th December last, which should be shown separately on the wages sheet.

This announcement does not apply to temporary typists, whose case is still under consideration.

Postmasters and other Supervising Officers should report to the Secretary without delay any information that may reach them of the names of Post Office Servants who are killed in action, who have died of wounds or disease, who are mentioned in despatches, or who receive special promotion in the Army or Navy. In reporting cases of death the name and address of the person to whom the Postmaster General might properly send a Letter of Condolence should, if possible, be stated, together with the deceased officer's name in full and the date when his employment in the Post Office first began.

The attention of Postmasters, &c., is directed to Rule 624 of the Rules for Head Post Offices, Part I., with special reference to the cases of officers who lose their lives in the War. If it is found that the instruction in question has been overlooked in any instance, the matter should receive immediate attention.

VACANCIES.

Postmaster of Portsmouth.—Salary, £708 a year.
" " Harrow.—Salary, £387 a year.
" " Ilkley.—Salary, £293 a year.
Salaried Sub-Postmaster of Coleford S.O., Lydney.—Salary, £121 a year.
" Sub-Postmistress of Elie S.O., Leven.—Salary, £100 a year.

The salary named in each case includes the appropriate allowance for Insurance and Telephone work.

Difficulty is likely to be experienced by a married man in obtaining residential accommodation at Coleford.

Candidates may offer themselves, through their superior officers, not later than the 25th of March.

The special attention of candidates is called to the rule which, in the case of vacancies or promotions, strictly prohibits them from applying except through their immediate superior officers. (See Staff Rules, Rule 28.)

The object of this regulation is to maintain the principle that promotion should be made solely with a view to the efficiency of the service, and on an impartial comparison of the qualifications of the candidates. In fairness to all the candidates it is not considered just that any one of them should be permitted to secure influential outside support which is not available for his competitors.

Any candidate who infringes this regulation renders himself liable to disqualification for appointment, and, in certain circumstances, to severer penalties.

WOMEN'S ARMY AUXILIARY CORPS.

Volunteers required for service overseas as Postal Sorters.

More women are required for service with the Army Post Office in France and applications are invited from Temporary Female Sorters, Temporary Sorting Clerks and Telegraphists, and Sub-Office Assistants to meet this demand.

The chief conditions of service are as follows:—

(1) The period of engagement will be for twelve months or the duration of the War, whichever is greater. An agreement to this effect has to be signed.

(2) Inclusive wages of 30s. a week (plus a bonus of 13s. a quarter) will be paid to cover all work, whether on week-days or Sundays.

(3) Board, lodging and washing will be provided by the Military Authorities, and a deduction of 14s. a week will be made from the pay to cover this. Medical attendance while abroad will be provided free.

(4) Uniform will be worn. An annual allowance of £4 will be made for this purpose, with £1 10s. on enrolment for a great coat and a further renewal grant of £1 at the end of the second six months in each year.

(5) A fortnight's leave per annum will be allowed provided the exigencies of the service admit. Free transport will be granted home and back to France for purposes of annual leave not more than once in six months.

(6) Selected candidates have to undergo a medical examination prior to enrolment. The period of preparation in England includes elementary instruction in hygiene and discipline.

(7) No woman whose husband is serving in France is eligible.

(8) Candidates should be between the ages of 20 and 40 and should have had at least four months' service in the Post Office with preferably some counter experience.

Applications should be sent to the Officer Commanding, Home Depôt, Royal Engineers Postal Section, Regent's Park, N.W. 1, through the ordinary official channels.

Vacancies for Female Postal Clerks and Telegraphists.—British East Africa.

There are vacancies for Female Postal Clerks and Telegraphists in British East Africa and the Postmaster General has been requested by the Colonial Office to recommend candidates for the appointments. Intending candidates should offer themselves through their superior officers not later than the 16th instant.

VACANCIES.

Postmaster of Hamilton.—Salary, £352 a year.

Salaried Sub-Postmistress of Newton Heath T.S.O., Manchester.—Salary, £90 a year.

The salary named in each case includes the appropriate allowance for Insurance and Telephone work.

Candidates may offer themselves, through their superior officers, not later than the 22nd of April.

The special attention of candidates is called to the rule which, in the case of vacancies or promotions, strictly prohibits them from applying except through their immediate superior officers. (See Staff Rules, Rule 28.)

The object of this regulation is to maintain the principle that promotion should be made solely with a view to the efficiency of the service, and on an impartial comparison of the qualifications of the candidates. In fairness to all the candidates it is not considered just that any one of them should be permitted to secure influential outside support which is not available for his competitors.

Any candidate who infringes this regulation renders himself liable to disqualification for appointment, and, in certain circumstances, to severer penalties.

NATIONAL WAR BONDS.

Special attention is called to the fact that the issue of the first series of 5% National War Bonds repayable in 1922, 1924 and 1927 ceased on the 30th March. The instruction that no more entries should be made in the Books issued for that series is being disregarded at several Offices, and confusion is arising which causes great inconvenience to the Department and annoyance to the public.

Only the mauve-coloured War Bond Books can now be used. Unissued Bond Books of the first series (buff-coloured) should be at once returned to the Controller of the Savings Bank, and no entry should be made in any buff-coloured Book which may be presented in ignorance by the public.

POST OFFICE RIFLES.

Additional recruits are required for the 8th Battalion, London Regiment, Post Office Rifles. Members of the Post Office Staff eligible for military service who wish to enlist in this Regiment should apply through the usual official channels for cards signifying that they have been accepted for service in this Corps. When they are called up, this card, if presented to the Recruiting Authorities, should ensure their being posted to the Post Office Rifles. Sons or other relatives of Post Office Servants wishing to serve in this Corps may also on application be supplied with cards of acceptance. Youths who have just reached the age of 18 as well as older men of military age will be accepted. Only men who have been medically classified as Grade I, i.e., fit for general military service, are required.

VACANCIES.

POSTMASTER OF PAISLEY.—Salary, £472 a year.
" " MERTHYR TYDVIL.—Salary, £376 a year.
" " BINGLEY.—Salary, £236 a year.
SALARIED SUB-POSTMASTER OF INVERURIE S.O., ABERDEEN.—Salary, £133 a year.
SALARIED SUB-POSTMISTRESS OF SHEFFIELD MOOR T.S.O.—Salary, £131 a year.
" " " BROXBURN S.O., BATHGATE.—Salary, £106 a year.
" " " GORTON BROOK T.S.O., MANCHESTER.—Salary, £90 a year.

The salary named in each case includes the appropriate allowance for Insurance and Telephone work.

It is desirable that the incoming Postmaster of Merthyr Tydvil should have a knowledge of Welsh. Difficulty is likely to be experienced by a married man in obtaining residential accommodation at Merthyr Tydvil.

A married man is also likely to have serious difficulty in obtaining a house at Inverurie.

Candidates may offer themselves, through their superior officers, not later than the 13th of May.

The special attention of candidates is called to the rule which, in the case of vacancies or promotions, strictly prohibits them from applying except through their immediate superior officers. (See Staff Rules, Rule 28.)

The object of this regulation is to maintain the principle that promotion should be made solely with a view to the efficiency of the service, and on an impartial comparison of the qualifications of the candidates. In fairness to all the candidates it is not considered just that any one of them should be permitted to secure influential outside support which is not available for his competitors.

Any candidate who infringes this regulation renders himself liable to disqualification for appointment, and, in certain circumstances, to severer penalties.

Temporary Indoor Officers.

Temporary Male and Female Indoor Officers are required in the South Western District for Postal and Telegraph work. Candidates must be capable of taking full charge of a Counter duty, or a busy Sounder Circuit.

Males eligible for military service will not be accepted.

Experienced Female Temporary Telegraphists are required in the Central Telegraph Office.

Third class personal locomotion expenses are allowed.

Full particulars can be obtained from the Surveyor, Portsmouth, or the Controller, Central Telegraph Office, London, E.C. 1, as the case may be.

Candidates should apply through the usual official channels.

The special attention of candidates is called to the rule which, in the case of vacancies or promotions, strictly prohibits them from applying except through their immediate superior officers. (See Staff Rules, Rule 28.)

The object of this regulation is to maintain the principle that promotion should be made solely with a view to the efficiency of the service, and on an impartial comparison of the qualifications of the candidates. In fairness to all the candidates it is not considered just that any one of them should be permitted to secure influential outside support which is not available for his competitors.

Any candidate who infringes this regulation renders himself liable to disqualification for appointment, and, in certain circumstances, to severer penalties.

Postmasters and other Supervising Officers should report to the Secretary without delay any information that may reach them of the names of Post Office Servants who are killed in action, who have died of wounds or disease, who are mentioned in despatches, or who receive special promotion in the Army or Navy. In reporting cases of death the name and address of the person to whom the Postmaster General might properly send a Letter of Condolence should, if possible, be stated, together with the deceased officer's name in full and the date when his employment in the Post Office first began.

The attention of Postmasters, &c., is directed to Rule 624 of the Rules for Head Post Offices, Part I., with special reference to the cases of officers who lose their lives in the War. If it is found that the instruction in question has been overlooked in any instance, the matter should receive immediate attention.

Postmasters and other Supervising Officers should report to the Secretary without delay any information that may reach them of the names of Post Office Servants who are killed in action, who have died of wounds or disease, who are mentioned in despatches, or who receive special promotion in the Army or Navy. In reporting cases of death the name and address of the person to whom the Postmaster General might properly send a Letter of Condolence should, if possible, be stated, together with the deceased officer's name in full and the date when his employment in the Post Office first began.

The attention of Postmasters, &c., is directed to Rule 624 of the Rules for Head Post Offices, Part I., with special reference to the cases of officers who lose their lives in the War. If it is found that the instruction in question has been overlooked in any instance, the matter should receive immediate attention.

APPOINTMENTS.

The Postmaster General has appointed Mr. R. Waring, Assistant Superintending Engineer, to be Superintending Engineer, Scotland West District, as from the 1st July, 1918, vice Mr. D. M. Stewart, I.S.O., who retires on the 30th instant.

Miss L. A. Lees, Sorting Clerk and Telegraphist, Whitworth Street T.S.O., Manchester, to be Salaried Sub-Postmistress of Gorton Brook T.S.O., Manchester.

VACANCIES.

SALARIED SUB-POSTMASTER OF GRANGEMOUTH S.O., FALKIRK.—Salary, £187 a year.

" " " MONTPELLIER T.S.O., CHELTENHAM—Salary, £100 a year.

The salary named in each case includes the appropriate allowance for Insurance and Telephone work.

The incoming Salaried Sub-Postmaster of Montpellier will be required to occupy the official residence for which he will be charged a rent at the rate of 14 per cent. of his salary. The accommodation comprises two sitting rooms, two bedrooms, a boxroom and a lavatory with the usual offices in the basement. A gas stove will be installed in one of the sitting rooms if required.

Candidates may offer themselves, through their superior officers, not later than the 1st of July.

Women applying for appointments advertised for Postmasters or Sub-Postmasters should understand that the pay for a woman is normally less than that advertised for a man.

The special attention of candidates is called to the rule which, in the case of vacancies or promotions, strictly prohibits them from applying except through their immediate superior officers. (See Staff Rules, Rule 28.)

The object of this regulation is to maintain the principle that promotion should be made solely with a view to the efficiency of the service, and on an impartial comparison of the qualifications of the candidates. In fairness to all the candidates it is not considered just that any one of them should be permitted to secure influential outside support which is not available for his competitors.

Any candidate who infringes this regulation renders himself liable to disqualification for appointment, and, in certain circumstances, to severer penalties.

Girl Probationers (London).

Girl Probationers—age 14 to 15—are required for light duties in Post Office buildings in London. Minimum height 5 feet. Free educational classes are provided, and all girls who prove satisfactory are assured of a permanent career in the Post Office. Applications should be made by letter to the Controller, London Telephone Service, 144A, Queen Victoria Street, E.C. 4, who will supply full particulars.

Postmasters and other Supervising Officers should report to the Secretary without delay any information that may reach them of the names of Post Office Servants who are killed in action, who have died of wounds or disease, who are mentioned in despatches, or who receive special promotion in the Army or Navy. In reporting cases of death the name and address of the person to whom the Postmaster General might properly send a Letter of Condolence should, if possible, be stated, together with the deceased officer's name in full and the date when his employment in the Post Office first began.

The attention of Postmasters, &c., is directed to Rule 624 of the Rules for Head Post Offices, Part I., with special reference to the cases of officers who lose their lives in the War. If it is found that the instruction in question has been overlooked in any instance, the matter should receive immediate attention.

Wages of temporary Sorters, London Postal Service, and of temporary Sorting Clerks and Telegraphists, Provinces.

It has been decided, in consultation with the Associations representing the temporary indoor staff, that the wages and war bonus of temporary Sorters in the London Postal Service and of temporary Sorting Clerks and Telegraphists in the Provinces shall be amalgamated and that revised rates shall be paid on the following basis:—

Post Offices to be divided into three grades for this purpose and the rates of wages for qualified adult officers to be as follows, increments being normally awarded annually:—

MEN.	Grade I.	47s.	49s.	51s.
	,, II.	45s.	47s.	49s.
	,, III.	42s.	44s.	46s.
WOMEN.	Grade I.	36s.	38s.	40s.
	,, II.	34s.	36s.	38s.
	,, III.	32s.	34s.	36s.

The existing local practices as regards pay during qualifying periods and during service below the age of 21 will continue, the present differences between pay during such periods and the pay of qualified adults being maintained.

Boys and girls under 18 years of age will be paid 7s. 6d. and 2s. 6d. less per week respectively than persons of the same sex 18 years of age and over.

Further instructions are being issued to Postmasters as regards the application of the new rates to individuals.

The rates for overtime pay will be as follows:—

MEN.	Grade I.	Grade II.	Grade III.
For the first 6 hours per week	10d.	9d.	9d.
For the next 6 hours per week and for Sunday duty	1s.	11d.	11d.
For time in excess of 12 hours per week	1s. 5d.	1s. 3d.	1s. 2d.
WOMEN.	Grade I.	Grade II.	Grade III.
For the first 6 hours per week	8d.	8d.	7d.
For the next 6 hours per week and for Sunday duty	10d.	9d.	8d.
For time in excess of 12 hours per week	1s. 2d.	1s. 1d.	11d.

War Bonus—Post Office Servants in His Majesty's Forces.

As in the case of the previous war bonus, the revised bonus granted under the recent Awards of the Conciliation and Arbitration Board may be allowed to count for the purpose of calculating the civil pay of Post Office Servants serving in His Majesty's Forces, with the exception of single men and widowers without dependent children in all units, and men in signal companies or in the Postal Section of the Royal Engineers, &c., or any other enlisted Post Office Servants who enjoy similar privileges as regards the grant of civil pay.

Postmasters, Superintending Engineers, &c., should commence payment forthwith in all clear cases. Provincial Postmasters and District Managers should submit all cases not coming under this heading for check before payment, using for this purpose special schedules which will be distributed shortly.

These schedules provide for cases where :—

(1) Overpayments or Imprests are outstanding,
(2) A balance of civil pay becomes payable owing to the additional War Bonus,
(3) Men have been reported missing,
(4) Men have died since 1st July, 1918.

The Certificate furnished on the wages abstract should now be in the following terms :—

I have satisfied myself that the War Bonus as paid to each officer is in accordance with the prescribed age qualifications, and that as regards men serving in His Majesty's Forces the special conditions applying have been observed.

His Majesty's Government have considered whether the rule under which war bonus counts for the purpose of calculating the civil pay of married employees serving with His Majesty's Forces should be extended to include single men with dependants, and they have decided to make no alteration in the present rule.

Mr. J. McLernan, whose name appeared in the Roll of Honour of the 23rd July, was S.C. & T. at Motherwell, not Rochester and Chatham.

Postmasters and other Supervising Officers should report to the Secretary without delay any information that may reach them of the names of Post Office Servants who are killed in action, who have died of wounds or disease, who are mentioned in despatches, or who receive special promotion in the Army or Navy. In reporting cases of death the name and address of the person to whom the Postmaster General might properly send a Letter of Condolence should, if possible, be stated, together with the deceased officer's name in full and the date when his employment in the Post Office first began.

The attention of Postmasters, &c., is directed to Rule 624 of the Rules for Head Post Offices, Part I., with special reference to the cases of officers who lose their lives in the War. If it is found that the instruction in question has been overlooked in any instance, the matter should receive immediate attention.

Gallant Conduct.

THE POSTMASTER GENERAL has heard with much pleasure that the Royal Humane Society have awarded their Honorary Certificate to Mr. W. Burchell, Asst. Supt. (Class II.), Smithfield Market B.O., E.C. District, for saving a woman from drowning on the 23rd of June last.

VACANCIES.

POSTMASTER OF PORT ELLEN.—Salary, £150 a year.

SALARIED SUB-POSTMASTER OF MILDENHALL S.O., ELY.—Salary, £116 a year (including the appropriate allowance for Insurance and Telephone work).

The incoming Postmaster of Port Ellen will be required to occupy the official residence for which he will be charged an inclusive rent of £10 a year. The accommodation comprises kitchen, sitting room, three bedrooms, bathroom and the usual offices. He will be required to deal with Admiralty Service telegrams outside the ordinary hours of business.

The incoming Salaried Sub-Postmaster of Mildenhall will be required to occupy the official residence, for which he will be charged the usual rent at the rate of 14 per cent. of his salary. The accommodation comprises one sitting room, three bedrooms, kitchen, scullery, storeroom and garden.

Candidates may offer themselves, through their superior officers, not later than the 19th of August.

Women applying for appointments advertised for Postmasters or Sub-Postmasters should understand that the pay for a woman is normally less than that advertised for a man.

The special attention of candidates is called to the rule which, in the case of vacancies or promotions, strictly prohibits them from applying except through their immediate superior officers. (See Staff Rules, Rule 28.)

The object of this regulation is to maintain the principle that promotion should be made solely with a view to the efficiency of the service, and on an impartial comparison of the qualifications of the candidates. In fairness to all the candidates it is not considered just that any one of them should be permitted to secure influential outside support which is not available for his competitors.

Any candidate who infringes this regulation renders himself liable to disqualification for appointment, and, in certain circumstances, to severer penalties.

Mr. H. E. Tasker, Postman, Hitchin, whose name appeared in the Roll of Honour in the Post Office Circular of the 10th September, held the rank of Sec.-Lieut. in the Post Office Rifles.

Postmasters and other Supervising Officers should report to the Secretary without delay any information that may reach them of the names of Post Office Servants who are killed in action, who have died of wounds or disease, who are mentioned in despatches, or who receive special promotion in the Army or Navy. In reporting cases of death the name and address of the person to whom the Postmaster General might properly send a Letter of Condolence should, if possible, be stated, together with the deceased officer's name in full and the date when his employment in the Post Office first began.

The attention of Postmasters, &c., is directed to Rule 624 of the Rules for Head Post Offices, Part I., with special reference to the cases of officers who lose their lives in the War. If it is found that the instruction in question has been overlooked in any instance, the matter should receive immediate attention.

VACANCIES.

POSTMASTER OF SALISBURY.—Salary, £504 a year.
" " ST. ALBANS.—Salary, £429 a year.
" " WELSHPOOL.—Salary, £248 a year.
SALARIED SUB-POSTMASTER OF TREDEGAR S.O., NEWPORT, MON.—Salary, £212 a year.

The salary named in each case includes the appropriate allowance for Insurance and Telephone work.

It is desirable that the incoming Postmaster of Welshpool should have a knowledge of Welsh.

Candidates may offer themselves, through their superior officers, not later than the 30th of September.

Women applying for appointments advertised for Postmasters or Sub-Postmasters should understand that the pay for a woman is normally less than that advertised for a man.

The special attention of candidates is called to the rule which, in the case of vacancies or promotions, strictly prohibits them from applying except through their immediate superior officers. (See Staff Rules, Rule 26.)

The object of this regulation is to maintain the principle that promotion should be made solely with a view to the efficiency of the service, and on an impartial comparison of the qualifications of the candidates. In fairness to all the candidates it is not considered just that any one of them should be permitted to secure influential outside support which is not available for his competitors.

Any candidate who infringes this regulation renders himself liable to disqualification for appointment, and, in certain circumstances, to severer penalties.

NATIONAL WAR BONDS.

The issue of the SECOND SERIES of these Bonds will cease on Monday, 30th September, and the issue of the THIRD SERIES will begin on Tuesday, 1st October. Supplies of the new Prospectus, Application Form, and War Bond Book, together with full instructions, will be forwarded to all Savings Bank Offices at the end of the present week. Any Office which has not received its supply by the morning of Tuesday, 1st October, should telegraph to the Controller, Savings Bank, London.

There will be an alteration in the dates of dividend and of repayment, but no change in the general procedure or in the existing Account Sheets, Dockets, and 10A forms. The principal point to be borne in mind is that on and after 1st October the THIRD SERIES Book (coloured green) is the only one in which entries of Bond purchases should be made.

Oath of Allegiance—(continued).

(5) As regards persons who have previously taken the Oath of Allegiance, the following declaration is sufficient, viz.:—

"I, ..., hereby declare that I have already taken the Oath of Allegiance (or made an Affirmation of Allegiance) on the occasion (state occasion on which the oath was taken, e.g., on the occasion of being enlisted as a soldier of His Majesty's Forces or of having attested for military service)."

(6) The oath may be administered in England and Scotland by any Justice of the Peace, and in Ireland by any Resident Magistrate, or, in all parts of the United Kingdom, by the permanent Head of the Department to which the person required to take the oath belongs or by such other superior officers of the Department as he may designate for the purpose, such permanent Head or other officers being themselves officers serving in an established capacity in His Majesty's Civil Service who have taken the oath.

Power is hereby delegated to Surveyors, District Managers, Superintending and Sectional Engineers and Postmasters (or to officers acting in these capacities) to administer the oath to Established Officers under their control. The officers administering the oath must themselves have first taken the oath. Any fee so incurred will be refunded. In the case of outlying staff, it is left to the discretion of the officer administering the oath whether they should be summoned to Head Quarters or visited at their place or office of employment.

Established officers who are serving in the Navy, Army and Air Force will not come within the terms of the Regulation while so serving, but they will be required to take the oath, or to make a declaration that they have previously taken it, on resuming duty in their Department.

His Majesty's Government desire that it may be clearly understood that the requirement of an Oath of Allegiance implies no reflection on the loyalty of the Civil Service. They are confident that every officer will gladly fulfil this requirement. Any officer who refuses to fulfil the requirement renders himself liable to dismissal.

Heads of Departments, Postmasters and other Controlling Officers will be held responsible for seeing that this instruction is carried out as regards all established officers under their control. A careful record must be kept of all officers by whom the Oath of Allegiance is taken or who are exempt from the requirements of the Regulation by reason of having previously taken the oath.

Postmasters and other Supervising Officers should report to the Secretary without delay any information that may reach them of the names of Post Office Servants who are killed in action, who have died of wounds or disease, who are mentioned in despatches, or who receive special promotion in the Army or Navy. In reporting cases of death the name and address of the person to whom the Postmaster General might properly send a Letter of Condolence should, if possible, be stated, together with the deceased officer's name in full and the date when his employment in the Post Office first began.

The attention of Postmasters, &c., is directed to Rule 624 of the Rules for Head Post Offices, Part I., with special reference to the cases of officers who lose their lives in the War. If it is found that the instruction in question has been overlooked in any instance, the matter should receive immediate attention.

APPOINTMENTS.

Mr. F. W. LeFèvre, Postmaster of Preston, to be Postmaster of Bradford.

Mr. F. J. W. Oakley, Postmaster of Norwich, to be Postmaster of Leicester.

Postmasters and other Supervising Officers should report to the Secretary without delay any information that may reach them of the names of Post Office Servants who are killed in action, who have died of wounds or disease, who are mentioned in despatches, or who receive special promotion in the Army or Navy. In reporting cases of death the name and address of the person to whom the Postmaster General might properly send a Letter of Condolence should, if possible, be stated, together with the deceased officer's name in full and the date when his employment in the Post Office first began.

The attention of Postmasters, &c., is directed to Rule 624 of the Rules for Head Post Offices, Part I., with special reference to the cases of officers who lose their lives in the War. If it is found that the instruction in question has been overlooked in any instance, the matter should receive immediate attention.

APPOINTMENTS.

" " Bantry.—Salary, £220 a year.
Salaried Sub-Postmaster of East Molesey S.O., Kingston-on-Thames.—Salary, £161 a year.
" " " Chipping Norton S.O., Oxford.—Salary, £147 a year.

The incoming Postmaster at Bantry will be required to occupy the official residence, for which he will be charged the usual rent at the rate of 14 per cent. of his salary. The accommodation comprises two sitting rooms, three bedrooms, boxroom, bathroom, kitchen and the usual offices.

Candidates may offer themselves, through their superior officers, not later than the 28th of October.

Women applying for appointments advertised for Postmasters or Sub-Postmasters should understand that the pay for a woman is normally less than that advertised for a man.

The special attention of candidates is called to the rule which, in the case of vacancies or promotions, strictly prohibits them from applying except through their immediate superior officers. (See Staff Rules, Rule 28.)

The object of this regulation is to maintain the principle that promotion should be made solely with a view to the efficiency of the service, and on an impartial comparison of the qualifications of the candidates. In fairness to all the candidates it is not considered just that any one of them should be permitted to secure influential outside support which is not available for his competitors.

Any candidate who infringes this regulation renders himself liable to disqualification for appointment, and, in certain circumstances, to severer penalties.

POST OFFICE CIRCULAR.

TUESDAY, 12 NOVEMBER, 1918.

No. 2432.

On the conclusion of hostilities I desire to express my deep appreciation of the loyal and devoted service rendered to the State by all ranks of the Post Office staff, permanent and temporary alike, since the outbreak of war.

The arduous labours of the past four years have borne fruit, and those Post Office servants whose duties have kept them at home may, in common with their colleagues who have gone to the front, feel justly that they have contributed their share towards the complete victory which the Allied Powers have now secured.

ALBERT ILLINGWORTH.
Nov. 11, 1918.

WAR BONUS—

AWARD OF CONCILIATION AND ARBITRATION BOARD.

Permanent Employees whose ordinary remuneration does not exceed 60s. a week.

(1) The Conciliation and Arbitration Board for Government Employees, under an Award dated 8th November, 1918, have awarded an increased War Bonus to permanently employed Post Office servants whose ordinary remuneration does not exceed 60s. a week, and have decided that War Bonus shall count for overtime pay in their case as from the 1st November, 1918. The Award applies only to classes which were represented before the Board, but the Postmaster General has received the authority of the Lords Commissioners of the Treasury for extending it to all permanently employed Post Office servants whose ordinary remuneration does not exceed 60s. a week.

(2) The following rates of war bonus will accordingly be payable to permanently employed full-time Post Office servants (with certain exceptions mentioned below) whose ordinary remuneration (including allowances, and the value of official quarters and of other emoluments, but excluding pay for Extra Duty, Sunday Duty, &c., and war bonus) does not exceed 60s. a week, as from 1st November, 1918, in place of the existing bonus payments:—

Postmasters and other Supervising Officers should report to the Secretary without delay any information that may reach them of the names of Post Office Servants who are killed in action, who have died of wounds or disease, who are mentioned in despatches, or who receive special promotion in the Army or Navy. In reporting cases of death the name and address of the person to whom the Postmaster General might properly send a Letter of Condolence should, if possible, be stated, together with the deceased officer's name in full and the date when his employment in the Post Office first began.

The attention of Postmasters, &c., is directed to Rule 624 of the Rules for Head Post Offices, Part I., with special reference to the cases of officers who lose their lives in the War. If it is found that the instruction in question has been overlooked in any instance, the matter should receive immediate attention.

Oath of Allegiance.

With reference to the notice in the Post Office Circular of the 1st October, 1918, the Government has decided that the Oath will be required only of Established Officers on clerical and administrative classes.

APPOINTMENTS.

Mr. G. W. Skakle, Postmaster of Macclesfield, to be Postmaster of Ayr.

Mr. E. Payne, Postmaster of Sutton, to be Postmaster of Falkirk.

Mr. H. H. Cornforth, Postmaster of Redditch, to be Postmaster of St. Albans.

Mr. W. H. Reed, Postmaster of Stourport, to be Postmaster of Newport, Salop.

Mr. H. M. Arman, Surveyor's Clerk, Third Class, to be Salaried Sub-Postmaster of Tredegar S.O., Newport, Mon.

VACANCIES.

SALARIED SUB-POSTMISTRESS OF ARKWRIGHT STREET T.S.O., NOTTINGHAM.—Salary, £96 a year.
" " ST. HELENS T.S.O., SWANSEA.—Salary, £90 a year.

The salary named in each case includes the appropriate allowance for Insurance and Telephone work.

The incoming Sub-Postmistress of Arkwright Street, Nottingham, will be required to occupy the official residence, for which she will be charged an inclusive rent of £12 12s. a year. The accommodation comprises a living room, sitting room, three bedrooms, basement kitchen, cellar and coal cellar.

The incoming Sub-Postmistress of St. Helens, Swansea, will be required to occupy the official residence, for which she will be charged the usual rent at the rate of 14 per cent. of the salary. The accommodation comprises one sitting room, two bedrooms, kitchen and scullery.

Candidates may offer themselves, through their superior officers, not later than the 18th of November.

Women applying for appointments advertised for Postmasters or Sub-Postmasters should understand that the pay for a woman is normally less than that advertised for a man.

The special attention of candidates is called to the rule which, in the case of vacancies or promotions, strictly prohibits them from applying except through their immediate superior officers. (See Staff Rules, Rule 28.)

The object of this regulation is to maintain the principle that promotion should be made solely with a view to the efficiency of the service, and on an impartial comparison of the qualifications of the candidates. In fairness to all the candidates it is not considered just that any one of them should be permitted to secure influential outside support which is not available for his competitors.

Any candidate who infringes this regulation renders himself liable to disqualification for appointment, and, in certain circumstances, to severer penalties.

Postmasters and other Supervising Officers should report to the Secretary without delay any information that may reach them of the names of Post Office Servants who are killed in action, who have died of wounds or disease, who are mentioned in despatches, or who receive special promotion in the Army or Navy. In reporting cases of death the name and address of the person to whom the Postmaster General might properly send a Letter of Condolence should, if possible, be stated, together with the deceased officer's name in full and the date when his employment in the Post Office first began.

The attention of Postmasters, &c., is directed to Rule 624 of the Rules for Head Post Offices, Part I., with special reference to the cases of officers who lose their lives in the War. If it is found that the instruction in question has been overlooked in any instance, the matter should receive immediate attention.

APPOINTMENTS.

Mr. T. H. Barrow, Postmaster of Sevenoaks, to be Postmaster of Salisbury.

Mr. S. Turner, Sorting Clerk and Telegraphist (T), Wolverhampton, to be Salaried Sub-Postmaster of Chipping Norton S.O., Oxford.

VACANCIES.

POSTMASTER OF WOODBRIDGE.—Salary, £285 a year.

SALARIED SUB-POSTMASTER OF ENGLEFIELD GREEN S.O., STAINES.—Salary, £121 a year.

SALARIED SUB-POSTMISTRESS OF CROSS LANE T.S.O., MANCHESTER.—Salary, £90 a year.

The salary named in each case, and in the case of each of the appointments advertised in the Post Office Circular of the 19th instant, includes the appropriate allowance for Insurance and Telephone Work.

Candidates may offer themselves, through their superior officers, not later than the 2nd of December.

Women applying for appointments advertised for Postmasters or Sub-Postmasters should understand that the pay for a woman is normally less than that advertised for a man.

The special attention of candidates is called to the rule which, in the case of vacancies or promotions, strictly prohibits them from applying except through their immediate superior officers. (See Staff Rules, Rule 28.)

The object of this regulation is to maintain the principle that promotion should be made solely with a view to the efficiency of the service, and on an impartial comparison of the qualifications of the candidates. In fairness to all the candidates it is not considered just that any one of them should be permitted to secure influential outside support which is not available for his competitors.

Any candidate who infringes this regulation renders himself liable to disqualification for appointment, and, in certain circumstances, to severer penalties.

Postmasters and other Supervising Officers should report to the Secretary without delay any information that may reach them of the names of Post Office Servants who are killed in action, who have died of wounds or disease, who are mentioned in despatches, or who receive special promotion in the Army or Navy. In reporting cases of death the name and address of the person to whom the Postmaster General might properly send a Letter of Condolence should, if possible, be stated, together with the deceased officer's name in full and the date when his employment in the Post Office first began.

The attention of Postmasters, &c., is directed to Rule 624 of the Rules for Head Post Offices, Part I., with special reference to the cases of officers who lose their lives in the War. If it is found that the instruction in question has been overlooked in any instance, the matter should receive immediate attention.

APPOINTMENTS.

Mr. G. W. Treble, C.M.G., Postmaster of Huddersfield, to be Postmaster of Norwich.

Mr. W. H. Southcott, Sorting Clerk and Telegraphist, Kingston-on-Thames, to be Salaried Sub-Postmaster of East Molesey S.O., Kingston-on-Thames.

Mr. H. R. Pugh, Assistant at Towyn S.O., Machynlleth, to be Salaried Sub-Postmaster of Towyn S.O., Machynlleth.

Miss S. McLennan, Sorting Clerk and Telegraphist, Levenshulme S.O., Manchester, to be Salaried Sub-Postmistress of Miles Platting T.S.O., Manchester.

The appointments of Mr. Sims to be Salaried Sub-Postmaster of Towyn, and of Miss Thompson to be Salaried Sub-Postmistress of Miles Platting, have been cancelled at their own request.

VACANCIES.

POSTMASTER OF HUDDERSFIELD.—Salary, £625 a year.

SALARIED SUB-POSTMASTER OF VICTORIA STREET T.S.O., BRISTOL.—Salary, £143 a year.

The salary named in each case includes the appropriate allowance for Insurance and Telephone work.

Candidates may offer themselves, through their superior officers, not later than the 16th of December.

Women applying for appointments advertised for Postmasters or Sub-Postmasters should understand that the pay for a woman is normally less than that advertised for a man.

The special attention of candidates is called to the rule which, in the case of vacancies or promotions, strictly prohibits them from applying except through their immediate superior officers. (See Staff Rules, Rule 28.)

The object of this regulation is to maintain the principle that promotion should be made solely with a view to the efficiency of the service, and on an impartial comparison of the qualifications of the candidates. In fairness to all the candidates it is not considered just that any one of them should be permitted to secure influential outside support which is not available for his competitors.

Any candidate who infringes this regulation renders himself liable to disqualification for appointment, and, in certain circumstances, to severer penalties.

Demobilization of Post Office Servants.

Many applications have been received from, or on behalf of, Post Office servants for early discharge from the Forces. This is a matter which must be left to the Demobilization Authorities, and the Postmaster General regrets that he is unable to intervene in the interests of individuals. When general demobilization begins, Post Office servants will obtain the same advantages as other men who have definite posts in civil life waiting for them.

The foregoing announcement should enable Postmasters and other Controlling Officers to answer enquiries and applications addressed to them.

POST OFFICE CIRCULAR.

TUESDAY, 17 DECEMBER, 1918.

No. 2439.

A special Circular, No. 2438, was issued on the 13th inst. concerning Christmas arrangements.

ADDITIONAL ANNUAL LEAVE—1919.

The Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury have had under consideration a proposal that in view of the heavy pressure of work which has fallen on Civil Servants during the War, an extension of Annual Leave should be granted during the year 1919; and the Postmaster General is glad to announce the following arrangements which have been approved by His Majesty's Government.

During the year 1919, an extra week's leave with pay will, subject to the requirements of the service, be granted to all permanent employees of the Post Office (including men returning from the Colours).

Subject to the like requirements, Temporary Staff who are employed on the 1st January next and have been so employed for at least a year in one or more Government Departments can be allowed two days extra leave with pay for each year of service, with a maximum of six days in all.

The Lords Commissioners desire to place on record their appreciation of the public spirit with which Civil Servants, both permanent and temporary, have responded to the demands made by the existence of a state of War, in many cases sacrificing a considerable amount of their normal holiday.

POST OFFICE ROLL OF HONOUR.

The Postmaster General has learnt with great pleasure that the following Officers of the Post Office, now on active service, have been honoured by mention in the Commander-in-Chief's despatches or by other mark of distinction. He tenders them his congratulations on the signal honour they have earned.

War Bonus: Inclusion for purposes of Overtime Rates, &c.

It was stated in the Post Office Circulars of the 12th and 26th November, 1918, that War Bonus would be taken into account in the calculation of Sunday duty and extra duty rates of the permanent staff as from the 1st November, 1918. In carrying out this decision the following arrangements apply:—

(a) In cases where the overtime rates, &c., are based on the ordinary remuneration (i.e. rate and a quarter, rate and a half, &c.) the rates will be calculated on the salary or wages plus war bonus and the existing maximum rates of 2s. 6d. an hour on week-days and 3s. an hour on Sundays will be extended to 3s.

POSTAL DRAFTS.

A book of Postal Drafts has been stolen from the Accountant-General's Department of the Admiralty. The forms contained in the stolen book are numbered $\frac{M}{1}$ 063475 to 063500 and bear the printed words "Navy Services" just below the words "Not Negotiable."

The paid Postal Drafts in hand should be examined at once to ascertain whether amongst them is any of the stolen forms. If any stolen form be on hand, it should be forwarded forthwith to the Director, Investigation Branch, General Post Office, London. If any form or forms have been paid and it is known by whom they were paid, that officer should furnish a written statement of all he recollects of the transaction or transactions and, if possible, a description of the appearance of the person who obtained payment, and should state whether he could identify the person. The paying officer's statement should be forwarded with the stolen form.

If application be made hereafter for payment of any of the stolen forms, the officer to whom the application is made should refuse payment and impound the form. Further, unless he knows the person and where he (or she) lives, and is satisfied of his (or her) good faith, endeavour should be made to detain the person until the arrival of a Police Officer, who should be shown this instruction and requested to satisfy himself of the person's identity and good faith. If the person cannot be detained, endeavour should be made to follow him (or her) and to ascertain, if possible, who he (or she) is and where he (or she) lives. In any case, a report must forthwith be made by telegram addressed, "Investigation, G.P.O., London." The officer to whom application for payment has been made should at once write a statement of the circumstances and hold it for instructions.

Postmasters and other Supervising Officers should report to the Secretary without delay any information that may reach them of the names of Post Office Servants who are killed in action, who have died of wounds or disease, who are mentioned in despatches, or who receive special promotion in the Army or Navy. In reporting cases of death the name and address of the person to whom the Postmaster General might properly send a Letter of Condolence should, if possible, be stated, together with the deceased officer's name in full and the date when his employment in the Post Office first began.

The attention of Postmasters, &c., is directed to Rule 624 of the Rules for Head Post Offices, Part I., with special reference to the cases of officers who lose their lives in the War. If it is found that the instruction in question has been overlooked in any instance, the matter should receive immediate attention.

The Postmaster General has promoted Mr. G. N. Merrefield, Assistant Surveyor, First Class, to be Surveyor in place of Mr. Castell who has retired. Mr. Merrefield will take charge for the present of the Eastern District.

VACANCIES.

	Salary.	Vacant.
Postmaster of Eastbourne	£525 a year.	1 July, 1919.
,, ,, Aldershot	£495 ,,	Already vacant.

Salaried Sub-Postmaster of Ellon, S.O., Aberdeen... £116 a year. Already vacant.

The incoming Sub-Postmaster of Ellon will be required to occupy the official residence, for which he will be charged the usual rent at the rate of 14 per cent. of his salary. The accommodation comprises four rooms, kitchen, bathroom and box room.

One application only should be made for either or both of the vacancies in the group.

Candidates may offer themselves, through their superior officers, not later than the 7th of April.

WAR BONUS—Award of Conciliation and Arbitration Board—continued.

(4) Increases of remuneration which, under the terms of the Board's previous awards, have been merged in war bonus, will, of course, not be revived; and increases of remuneration which were proper to be deducted from the existing war bonus will also be merged in the new bonus.

(5) Subject to the same conditions permanent part-time employees will be paid the equivalent of 20 per cent. of their ordinary remuneration plus such proportion of the flat-rate bonus shown under Section (2) as their ordinary hours of work bear to full-time employment.

(6) The new bonus will not be payable to men and women employed at trade rates of remuneration in the Engineering and Stores Departments, nor to certain employees in the Stores Department who are in receipt of war increases granted in connexion with Awards by the Committee on Production, nor to employees on the Cable Ships, &c., who are in receipt of free board or free rations.

(7) In the case of pieceworkers, other than those excluded under clause (6) above, the "ordinary remuneration" for the present purpose will be based on the time rate for a normal working week and not on piecework earnings.

(8) Re-employed pensioners who are in receipt of the war bonus payable to permanent officers will be eligible for war bonus at the revised rate.

(9) The additional war bonus will be taken into account in the calculation of Sunday duty and extra duty rates. The existing maximum hourly rates of payment—3/- an hour for week-day overtime and 3/6 an hour for Sunday duty—will be maintained for the present. The case of officers whose overtime pay is calculated at a fixed rate is reserved for further consideration, and, in the meantime, the present rates should be continued provisionally in their cases. A separate announcement will be made as regards the revised rates of pay proper to permanent part-time officers for Sunday duty not covered by the weekly wages and for extra duty. The question whether, and if so to what extent, war bonus should count for pensions or gratuities is reserved for further consideration.

(10) Subject to the conditions stated, the revised bonus will be payable as from the 1st April, 1919, and it is to be recognized as due to and dependent on the existence of the abnormal conditions now prevailing.

(11) The question whether the additional bonus shall be allowed to count for the purpose of calculating the civil pay of Post Office servants serving in His Majesty's Forces is reserved for consideration; a further announcement on this point will be made.

(12) A separate announcement will be made as regards Salaried Officers, and Scale Payment Sub-Postmasters, Caretaker Operators, &c.

Postmasters, Superintending Engineers, &c., should, if at all possible, commence payment of the increased bonus warranted under the above announcement with the next payment of wages.

It should not be overlooked that temporary staff are outside the scope of the new award. Permanent part-time officers temporarily employed on a higher paid duty should continue to be treated as temporary employees for war bonus purposes.

Tables showing the amounts payable to permanent part-time Night Telephonists (Male) at the revised rate of 24/- for 54 hours' duty, and also for calculating the equivalent of 20 per cent. of ordinary remuneration accompany this Circular.

VACANCY.

Postmaster of Lowestoft ..... Salary, £420 a year. Already vacant.

Candidates may offer themselves through their superior officers not later than the 27th October.

Women applying for appointments advertised for Postmasters or Sub-Postmasters should understand that the pay for a woman is normally less than that advertised for a man.

The special attention of candidates is called to the rule which, in the case of vacancies or promotions, strictly prohibits them from applying except through their immediate superior officers. (See Staff Rules, Rule 28.)

The object of this regulation is to maintain the principle that promotion should be made solely with a view to the efficiency of the service, and on an impartial comparison of the qualifications of the candidates. In fairness to all the candidates it is not considered just that any one of them should be permitted to secure influential outside support which is not available for his competitors.

Any candidate who infringes this regulation renders himself liable to disqualification for appointment, and, in certain circumstances, to severer penalties.

Lane, J. C.	C.C. & T.	L.P.S., S.W. District	Royal Engineers.
Smith, B.	Auxiliary Postman	Winterbourne, Bristol	Rifle Brigade.

Postmasters and other Supervising Officers should report to the Secretary without delay any information that may reach them of the names of Post Office Servants who are killed in action, who have died of wounds or disease, who are mentioned in despatches, or who receive special promotion in the Army or Navy. In reporting cases of death the name and address of the person to whom the Postmaster General might properly send a Letter of Condolence should, if possible, be stated, together with the deceased officer's name in full and the date when his employment in the Post Office first began.

The attention of Postmasters, &c., is directed to Rule 624 of the Rules for Head Post Offices, Part I., with special reference to the cases of officers who lose their lives in the War. If it is found that the instruction in question has been overlooked in any instance, the matter should receive immediate attention.

Candidates may offer themselves, through their superior officers, not later than the 22nd of December.

It is necessary that the incoming Sub-Postmaster of Hunstanton should possess manipulative telegraph knowledge.

Women applying for appointments advertised for Postmasters or Sub-Postmasters should understand that the pay for a woman is normally less than that advertised for a man.

The special attention of candidates is called to the rule which, in the case of vacancies or promotions, strictly prohibits them from applying except through their immediate superior officers. (See Staff Rules, Rule 28.)

The object of this regulation is to maintain the principle that promotion should be made solely with a view to the efficiency of the service, and on an impartial comparison of the qualifications of the candidates. In fairness to all the candidates it is not considered just that any one of them should be permitted to secure influential outside support which is not available for his competitors.

Any candidate who infringes this regulation renders himself liable to disqualification for appointment, and, in certain circumstances, to severer penalties.

POST OFFICE CIRCULAR.

TUESDAY, 6 JULY, 1920.

No. 2521.

Bonus—Adjustment as from the 1st July, 1920.

With reference to paragraph 9 of the announcement in the Post Office Circular of the 25th May last, it should be noted that the average cost of living figure for the purpose of the revision referred to in that paragraph will be 135 for the four months from the 1st July, 1920. The bonus now being paid as from the 1st March, 1920, should accordingly be increased by $\frac{1}{26}$th as from the 1st July, 1920.

The conditions and instructions set out in the announcement of the 25th May last will be applicable to the increased bonus; and in this connexion it should be noted that officers who continue to receive war bonus in accordance with Award No. 101 of the Civil Service Arbitration Board under the option referred to in paragraph 10 may revise their choice if it is now more advantageous to them to be paid in accordance with the new bonus scheme. Any officer who elects to take the new bonus will not be entitled to exercise a fresh option with the view of reverting to the former scheme.

The revised bonus is applicable to Scale Payment Sub-Postmasters and Sub-Postmistresses.

A Ready Reckoner for calculating bonus at the increased rate payable as from the 1st July, 1920, is being distributed. The Ready Reckoner which was issued with the Post Office Circular of the 25th May last, should be preserved.

Gallant Conduct.

The Postmaster General is glad to announce an act of conspicuous bravery on the part of Mr. J. H. Flavel, Chief Officer of the Post Office Cable Ship "Alert." While the "Alert" was engaged last February in recovering cable, it was found that a mine had become entangled with the cable and had been brought up to the bows of the ship. In preference to delegating to any of his men a task of considerable danger, Mr. Flavel had himself lowered over the bows in a boatswain's chair and after examining the mine released it by cutting the wires which had become caught in the cable. By his prompt action, Mr. Flavel averted what might have been a serious disaster.

His Majesty the King has been pleased to award Mr. Flavel the Silver Medal for Gallantry in Saving Life at Sea.

The Postmaster General is glad to announce that an attempted robbery on the 30th of July at the Milltown T.S.O., Dublin, was frustrated through the courage of Mrs. Teresa Hackett, the Sub-Postmistress of that office and Miss M. T. Hackett, an Assistant.

An armed man entered the office and covering Miss Hackett with his revolver threatened to shoot her unless she handed over the cash. She refused to comply and having locked the cash drawer and put the key in her pocket she summoned the Sub-Postmistress, who at the risk of being shot, called for help. Eventually the intruder left the office without carrying out his threats, but had it not been for the courageous behaviour of the Assistant and the Sub-Postmistress, there would undoubtedly have been considerable loss of Public money.

VACANCIES.

	SALARY.	DATE OF VACANCY.
POSTMASTER OF FERMOY	£290 a year	An early date.

Candidates may offer themselves, through their superior officers, not later than the 29th of November.

Women applying for appointments advertised for Postmasters or Sub-Postmasters should understand that the pay for a woman is normally less than that advertised for a man.

The special attention of candidates is called to the rule which, in the case of vacancies or promotions, strictly prohibits them from applying except through their immediate superior officers. (See Staff Rules, Rule 28). The object of this regulation is to maintain the principle that promotion should be made solely with a view to the efficiency of the service, and on an impartial comparison of the qualifications of the candidates. In fairness to all the candidates it is not considered just that any one of them should be permitted to secure influential outside support which is not available for his competitors.

Any candidate who infringes this regulation renders himself liable to disqualification for appointment, and, in certain circumstances, to severer penalties.
